Pay Boost Hinted To Armed Forces

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Pearkes held out hope Thursday for a pay increase for the armed forces.

He said consideration is being given to increasing pay and allowances in the armed forces.

Mr. Pearkes added all civilian defence employees likely will get a salary increase this year.

Mutineers Attack Nuns, Belgians Race for Refuge

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo Republic (Reuters) — Panic-stricken Belgian women and children fled from Leopoldville early today amid an army uprising in the capital.

A horde of Congolese troops seized arms in the city's Camp Leopold and chased out their European officers, triggering a wave of panic.

Women and children thronged through the streets and boarded ferry boats north across the Congo River to Brazzaville, in neighboring former French Africa.

NEW REPUBLIC

The exodus came as Belgian refugees poured into Leopoldville with tales of rape and looting by rampaging army mutineers in outlying areas of the seven-day-old republic.

Crowds of Belgians left their homes and sought refuge at the Belgian Embassy while bands of armed rebel troops stopped some of their cars at gunpoint.

The army rebellion was reported quelled by 3 a.m. local time, after two boatloads of women and children had crossed the river.

SHOCKED BY TALES

Leopoldville's white population was shocked by tales of outrages by mutinying troops elsewhere in the Congo.

The number of women sexually assaulted was impossible to determine but reports from refugees indicated widespread rapes the previous night when drunken troops roamed the Thysville, Madimba and surrounding areas.

ASSAULTED

Two white women were sexually assaulted by gangs of soldiers in nearby Madimba, refugees said.

The Thysville situation, where Camp Hardy troops revolted against Belgian officers Wednesday, was termed critical after the police rose against European officers. The police was considered the backbone of loyal government supporters.

Wives and children of officers living in Thysville asked Belgian authorities for help and later reportedly boarded a train for this city.

FOUR INTO CITY

Other segments of the 95,000 Belgian population poured into Leopoldville late Thursday and reported soldiers were searching homes, purportedly for weapons, in Thysville and Madimba, and roughing up residents as they went.

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — A dust-covered Belgian administrator from the Madimba region arrived here Thursday from Thysville with a report of European women and nuns being raped at gunpoint by mutinous Congo soldiers.

ROUNDED UP

He said troops at Inkisi rounded up all the European residents and raped the wife of one of them "several times," then began a house-to-house search for weapons.

At Mbanza-Boma, he said, other troops broke into a convent where many European women had sought refuge. They raped the women and nuns at gunpoint, he said.

SMASHED INTO CHAPEL — They smashed their way into the chapel where the nuns were assembled in prayer, he said. "They menaced them and roughed them up."

"They left finally, dragging two screaming girls along. Hours later, the girls were found kilometers away in the jungle where they had been abandoned stark naked."

Soldiers in Thysville, a Belgian-founded town some 100 miles southwest of the capital city of Leopoldville, were said to have broken into a cement factory in the neighboring town of Lumbako and forced white personnel to crawl on their hands and knees at gunpoint in front of African workers.

Lottery-Winner's Son

Kidnapper Asks $56,000 for Boy

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters) — A kidnapper Thursday snatched eight-year-old Graeme Thorne and demanded one-quarter of his father's $224,000 lottery winnings as ransom.

It was the first case of child kidnapping in Australia's history.

The grief-stricken mother, Mrs. Freda Thorne, sobbed: "We will even pay out the whole lottery win to get him back."

Graeme's salesman father, Basil Thorne, broke down during a television interview.

He cried: "If whoever has Graeme is a father with children of his own, all I can say is: for God's sake send him back to me in one piece."

Thorne had been pestered by cranks and crackpots, police said, since he won £100,000 in a lottery held last month in connection with a fund-raising campaign for a new opera house in Sydney.

The boy vanished on his way to school from his suburban home.

A friend reported to Mrs. Thorne after Graeme failed to turn up and police were informed. But kidnapping was not suspected until a man telephoned to the boy's home and demanded $56,000 for Graeme's release.

Musical Strike

'Rock' Stops Ships

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — Three luxury liners were held in port Thursday night by a strike which started as a dispute over rock 'n' roll.

About 500 crew members were on strike in support of four union colleagues who were "disciplined" for playing "rock" music on the mooring deck of the 22,000-ton Cunard liner Carinthia as it sailed up the St. Lawrence River two weeks ago.

The liners held up were the Carinthia, the Reina Del Mar and the Apapa.

Mexicans Cheer Support for Cuba

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A spokesman for Mexico's ruling political party told cheering Mexican congressmen Thursday that Mexico will have to side with Cuba in the growing U.S.-Cuban crisis.

Emilio Sanchez Piedra said he was speaking for the Party of Revolutionary Institutions, which has an overwhelming majority in Congress.

Both senators and deputies were present at the congressional meeting called to explain the policies of the government of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Sanchez Piedra said the United States apparently has shut its doors to friendship and understanding despite desires of the Cuban public to live in liberty and economic independence.

He said the Mexican Congress, representing the Mexican people, offers its friendship to the Cuban people.

Mexico will stand solidly

with Castro's island republic, he declared.

His remarks touched off an ovation. Mexican newspaper reporters said it was the greatest they remember among congressmen.

Bullet-Proof Vests Used In Dragnet

MONTREAL (UPI) — Heavily armed special squad officers from city and provincial police forces prowled through the suspected haunts of known bank robbers last night in a series of information seeking raids.

The police officers, equipped with bullet-proof vests, were making an all-out effort to curb the number of armed robberies in Montreal.

By TERRY HAMMOND

Proposal to build the controversial 700-mile Pacific Northern Railway into B.C.'s northern wilderness will almost certainly become the subject of a Public Utilities Commission hearing—whether the government wants it or not.

This was apparent late yesterday when Prince Rupert Mayor Peter J. Lester told the Colonist his municipality is almost sure to become the "interested person" which PUC chairman Dr. H. F. Angus said on Wednesday could precipitate such a hearing.

Prince Rupert's action would probably bring construction of the line to a standstill while the PUC determines:

1. Whether the railway has actually started construction.
2. Whether it is a public utility within the meaning of the Public Utilities Act.
3. Whether the PUC has jurisdiction.
4. What it should do if it has got jurisdiction.

NOT SUBJECT — The PNR maintains that it is not subject to the provisions of the Public Utilities Act at the present time.

Earlier yesterday, Railways Minister Lyle Wicks said he found it "quite clear" that the PUC feels the railway can go ahead with construction—but not operation—of its railway to the Yukon without PUC approval.

Dr. Angus refused to confirm or deny this interpretation of a PUC order which came down on Wednesday dismissing the application of the PNR for a certificate of public convenience and necessity.

When pressed, he would

Breath Machine Wins Drunk Case

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa police department won its first court case Thursday using its new alcohol-measuring "breathalyzer." Cyril G. Marshall, 68, was convicted of impaired driving and fined $200. Mr. Marshall showed only slight signs of impairment, police testified. But the breath-measuring device showed a reading of .15 per cent, the accepted figure for impairment.

Civil War in Italy Red Riot Threat

ROME (AP) — Police machineguns chattered and five persons died Thursday in the continuing rioting that threatens to plunge Italy into civil war.

Word of new violence and death in the Communist stronghold city of Reggio Emilia in northern Italy touched off fresh tumult and fist fights here.

In addition to the five fatalities, at least 21 persons were wounded in Reggio Emilia. The outbreaks there appeared to be the worst in two weeks of disturbances in various places that now have claimed seven lives. More than 500 demonstrators and 200 police have been injured.

Premier Fernando Tambroni blamed the disorders on the Communists. He charged in the Chamber of Deputies the Communists were "conducting a pre-planned action—both in the national and international fields—aimed at subverting order and democracy."

The leftists said their target was the Fascists, but Italian newspapers charged they were acting on orders from Moscow to bring down Italy's pro-Western government.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

New nations are being fashioned from the wreckage of the old empires. Some of the new nations are solidly built and likely to endure.

Too many of them, however, are flimsy, patchwork things, tacked together with prejudices and hatreds, destined to come unstuck in the first heavy rains, like cardboard shoes.

Numbers of vague, well-meaning people believe that independence is a miracle medicine that can cure every sickness of a backward land. They are deceiving themselves. European empire-builders wrought huge changes in the countries they governed. They did both good and harm, if such words have any meaning. They went among an alien people as preachers, doctors, nurses, administrators, judges, merchants and thieves.

Bitter Learning

They taught some of their subjects new knowledge and new ambitions—and by rejecting them as social equals, they taught them bitterness.

Now the white men are leaving their former colonies in the hands of a new group of rulers—the educated native elite whom (in many cases) they treated with scorn in times past.

The native elite now has the task of trying to keep control of a mass of unlettered, rootless city-dwellers and jungle tribesmen of several kinds whose ways are strange to one another, and who hate each other like poison.

They clamored for the job. In such a country as the Belgian Congo, they may find it too much for them. They may learn, by probing their own consciences, that all they wanted was to be treated like Europeans. All they wanted was to be allowed to join the club and order a Tom Collins.

If the Europeans had had the sense to let them do that, Europeans might still be in charge.

Worse Tyrants

The native elite, driven more than they themselves realize by such petty motives as envy, may turn out to be worse tyrants in the end than their former masters—difficult though the white men's record might be to match in some cases.

And the world may discover, too late, that the real betrayers of backward lands were these same people, who wished to hurry history along too fast, so that they could soothe their own feelings of inferiority and gain power to exploit others as they themselves had been exploited.

Rather than hand over power to people who are unfit to handle it, why not give control into the hands of a United Nations development commission, in which such nations as India would have a prominent part?

The backward countries could then be conditioned gradually to self-rule, while they lost their grudges and inferiority feelings in a program of racial friendship and equality.

Pyjama Strolls Stop Draft

DONCASTER, England (AP)—Barrie Hanford, 31, has won a reprieve from the British army because his wife walks in her sleep.

Attractive 30-year-old Mrs. Hanford strolls out in her pyjamas almost every night. Hanford has to bring her back.

Raids Strike At Revival Of Mau Mau

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—Police began a series of raids on African communities in the early hours yesterday, rounding up Kikuyu tribesmen suspected of being involved in a revival of Mau Mau oath-taking rites.

About 200 policemen went into action in the Nairobi area and similar operations were launched in outlying Kikuyu reserves.

The raids came amid fears by white settlers that the oath-taking ceremonies might represent a prelude to another outbreak of terrorism such as led to the deaths of more than 13,000 persons in the seven-year Mau Mau emergency.

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government is likely to set aside more funds than previously planned for direct home-building loans and to raise the $5,000 income limitation on them, informed sources said Thursday.

The anticipated result of such a step would be to stimulate fall and winter housing construction, providing greater employment in the construction industry and industries serving it.

For several months, the government has limited its direct loans through Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to prospective home owners with annual incomes of $5,000 or less.

In announcing the 1960 direct-lending policy some months ago, Works Minister Walker indicated that about $175,000,000 would be available for direct lending, down sharply from the $350,000,000 committed by CMHC last year. Reliable sources said it is likely the government will increase the direct-lending funds to $200,000,000 or more.

At the same time, the $5,000 limitation is likely to be increased to $7,000 or $7,500, depending on the number of children in the family of the prospective home owner applying for a government loan, these sources said.

60,000 Members

Lutheran Groups United

REGINA (CP)—Three Lutheran churches merged Thursday to form the biggest Lutheran church in Western Canada, with combined membership of 60,000.

The Canadian district of the American Lutheran Church displaced separate organizations of Canada district of the American Lutheran Church, the Evangelical Lutheran Church and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church.

On the third ballot Rev. Karl Holfeld of Regina, president of the old Canada district for 12 years, was elected president of the new organization. "The basic idea is that Lutherans who come from many lands and speak a Babel of tongues are finding in each other a common faith," Dr. Holfeld said.

"With that discovery, it is only natural they amalgamate and form a common faith."

Entire House Votes for Bill of Rights As Diefenbaker Earns Wild Applause

Creditor Abuses Cited

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Social Credit MLA says he will show Attorney-General Bonner evidence of a widespread practice of garnishing a man's wages before the man has a chance to explain his position in court.

Don Robinson of Lillooet says some collection agencies are using "axe swinging methods" to collect debts.

Pat O'Neal, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Labor, said earlier garnishee orders should be outlawed and the government has been asked to investigate tactics of collection agencies.

Mr. Bonner has asked for evidence of such tactics before ordering an inquiry.

Long-sought scientific goal of true amplification of light has been achieved by this "laser," according to Dr. Theodore Maiman. Cube of synthetic ruby in front of tube, absorbs random light rays, and its tightly-packed atoms are excited in unison, producing tremendously-amplified parallel rays of light. (AP Photofax.)

Science Cracks Barrier

New Lamp Outshines Sun; First True Light-Booster

NEW YORK (AP)—Development of a new atomic lamp that generates a light brighter than the centre of the sun was reported Thursday. It was hailed as history's first true amplification of light.

Instead of spreading out in all directions like ordinary light, this lamp sends out parallel beams that drift apart only 200 feet in 1,000 miles, scientists said.

Dr. Theodore Maiman, who headed the development team, said the lamp was capable of vaporizing objects on which it was focussed in the laboratory.

The atomic lamp, with a synthetic ruby at its heart, was developed for Hughes Aircraft company of Culver City, Calif. It is called a "laser."

The scientists said it could fire an inch-wide beam of light the distance from Los Angeles to San Francisco without spreading more than 100 feet. Or it could send a similar beam of light the 250,000 miles to the moon, and illuminate an area only 10 miles wide on the lunar surface.

Such a light can produce "the purest colors known" or could be used as a light radar to make clear observations at great distances. It thus might be useful in space communications. It was said to open the door to extending the present radio spectrum 10,000-fold.

Since such a device can be used to amplify light picked up by telescopes, as well as generate light on its own, it can help man get more detailed pictures of distant stars.

Wide Wartime Powers Face Probe Next Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Without a sign of dissent, every member present in the Commons Thursday night stood to support the principle of a Canadian bill of rights.

Vote in the 262-member House was 183 to 0 after 3½ days of debate.

WILD APPLAUSE

The recorded vote, called for by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, followed a wildly-applauded, two-hour address by Mr. Diefenbaker.

The prime minister, during his long reply to opposition criticism, said the War Measures Act should be considered by a parliamentary committee next session to see if its wide powers could be curbed without injury to the security of the nation in wartime.

NO DENIALS

The bill of rights, he said, will serve as a backdrop against which future parliaments cannot deny fundamental rights and freedoms to any individual.

"I can see a tremendous effect, because there are statutes on our books that have the effect of denying these rights. Henceforth the courts will be required to follow this bill in their interpretation of the law."

SOVEREIGN

The bill of rights would make the individual "a sovereign" in his dealings with the state, so long as he keeps within the law.

"The bill will not do everything I would have liked to see done. But it is a great step forward, for people will know their rights cannot be disregarded."

LAW-ABIDING

At one point, he broke off to re-assure Canadians upset about an entry racket that the rights of the "law-abiding, loyal and thrifty" will be upheld.

Earlier, H. W. Herridge (CCF, Kootenay West) said his party will support the bill as a "first instalment" in a program of guaranteeing Canadians their rights and freedoms.

And, dealing with Liberal criticisms that the language of the bill is uninspiring, Justice Minister Fulton said: "My friends seem to forget that we are writing a statute, not a poem."

'Improve Spirits'

Happy Competition Nikita's Latest Idea

VIENNA (Reuters)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev Thursday night called on the West to disarm, abolish military spending and compete with Russia in the arena of living standards, spiritual wealth and the happiness of their peoples.

Speaking sombrely on television on the last evening of his nine-day tour of Austria, Khrushchev said: "We want peace, but are not begging for it."

"Although we are the strongest country militarily, we go to war against no one and threaten no one."

He said Russia is willing to sign an agreement on disarmament immediately but the West's "open sky" proposal had nothing to do with disarmament.

The U-2 spy plane "shows convincingly enough who wants an open sky and what for."

Khrushchev said Soviet-Austrian relations were "a significant example of peaceful co-existence of countries with different social orders."

Earlier, Russia and Austria reached an economic agreement said to involve Soviet concessions. Details will be announced today.

Negroes Urge Civil Rights On Democrats

Nixon's Health Excellent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Nixon received a complete annual physical checkup at the U.S. army's Walter Reed medical centre April 23, and his health was found to be "excellent in all respects," his office said.

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert Klein, emphasized that Nixon was not trying to raise a "health issue."

Nixon's only problem—he occasionally suffers from hay fever.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)

Negro spokesmen and southern student "sit-in" leaders demanded Wednesday that the Democratic party write iron-clad civil rights guarantees into its 1960 platform and expel segregationists from party ranks.

They placed their demands before the 108-member Democratic platform committee as liberal members said they will urge a plank supporting the sit-ins and calling for further federal action on civil rights.

EXPLOSIVE ISSUE

The explosive issue was the main one before the committee in its third day of public hearings leading to actual drafting of the platform on which the Democratic convention will act Tuesday.

A variety of other demands is expected by groups ranging from the United Auto Workers Union to the world population emergency campaign committee, anti-Zionists, Alaska and the U.S. textile industry.

FINNISH BATHS

'Tennis Balls Seen 500 Miles Away'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressman cited reports yesterday that a new U.S. radar photographic device is so successful that tennis balls can be distinguished in photos taken from 500 miles away.

Rep. Craig Hosmer (R, Calif.), a member of the House-Senate atomic energy committee, said there were rumors of a new U.S. device "taking aerial photographs by radar showing minute details of the naval base at Norfolk from nearly 500 miles away."

"So accurate are the photographs, it is said, that tennis balls on the court of the Norfolk officers club are easily distinguishable."

Liberals Consolidate

THE GAZETTE, of Montreal, had confirmed that Premier Antonio Barrette, whose Union Nationale party was defeated in the general provincial election, would turn over the reins of government in Quebec this week. On Tuesday that was done. Constitutional means of delaying the change and express petitions for recounts in some constituencies alike were abandoned when the Liberals increased their party standing in the new legislature to 51 seats out of a total of 95, with a majority of 8 seats over 43 Union Nationale and 1 Independent elected in opposition. Mr. Barrette took the final step in conceding defeat when the Liberals picked up a seat in North Gaspe on a judicial recount.

The result consolidates the upheaval in Quebec provincial politics indicated on election night. The collapse of the Union Nationale on this first test after the death of the late Maurice Duplessis, its dynamic leader for a long time, could spell the end of its power in the provincial affairs of Quebec. Perhaps only time will show the full consequences of what the electors decided on June 22. Quite apart from provincial affairs, the victory of the Liberals under Mr. Jean Lesage cannot but have some repercussions on federal affairs; for it is a different Quebec under different leaders as from this week's transfer of the reins of government.

Coupled with the upset in New Brunswick, where the provincial parties carry the same names they do in federal matters, the current round of general elections in the provinces has been anything but comforting for the Progressive Conservative administration at Ottawa. Under no circumstances probably could the Progressive Conservatives have dislodged the CCF in Saskatchewan, but the unexpected result in the Maritimes and the new look in Quebec will give federal party organizers something to think about between now and the next Dominion election. The economic slow-down across the country may have had much to do with the results, but political leadership in the provinces also was clearly being questioned.

Aneurin (Nye) Bevan

THE British Labor Party has lost its most dynamic figure and the British political scene one of its most colorful personalities in the death of Aneurin (Nye) Bevan after a lingering illness. He was as well-known throughout the English-speaking world almost as in his own country; which is testimony to the qualities that brought him to the forefront.

Long regarded as the firebrand of his party, Bevan was easily its most brilliant parliamentarian, with a capacity for debate probably equalled only by Churchill in recent memory. His Welsh wit flowed like silver and for a man who began as a 13-year-old pit boy he exhibited amazingly erudite eloquence and mastery of pungent argument. He was a naturally gifted orator of the Lloyd Georgian tradition.

He was also the sternest foe of the Conservatives and a life-long advocate of unadulterated socialism, although he had mellowed somewhat in recent years and abdicated the extreme left-wing leadership of the die-hard elements of his party. The British Labor Party is at present a house divided, and with the passing of "Nye" Bevan its future direction is more problematical than ever. There is no one in its hierarchy of the same power and stature.

Mr. Hugh Gaitskill is head of a party torn by dissension over disarmament and the need for matching the changed economic conditions of Britain by re-orienting its socialist policies. Bevan was its number two man. In any near-future labor government he was slated to be foreign minister; in view of Mr. Gaitskill's embarrassments he might easily have become the number one man and thus prime minister. That was not to be, and all Britain—with the magnanimity that characterizes its politics—now mourns the vital and challenging figure who was one of its most arresting and powerful political personages.

RCAF Display at Comox

IN keeping with a tradition that is appreciated publicly, the Royal Canadian Air Force will stage its annual "day" at Comox tomorrow. While Patricia Bay airport's lack of runway facilities to handle the latest and fastest new aircraft again will deprive the B.C. capital of this honor, hundreds of Victorians will travel to Comox for the keenly anticipated event. Victoria air cadets will have part on a program, in which the RCAF sets out to show something of its work in flying terms. Canada's fine aerobatic team, the Golden Hawks, will lead in a three-hour list of scheduled events.

Under the circumstances of the times, the actual work of the RCAF is less known in Canada than on its true merits it deserves to be. A major part of the effort today is in Western Europe in the NATO defence shield. Service squadrons at home, through their nature, training, and practice, carry out their day-to-day duties for the most part out of sight of the centres of population in the country. Occasional ceremonial parades through city streets, when the men in air force blue attract attention for their smartness, do not take the place of flying and ground service in their special field. So the "show days" are valuable, and welcomed.

For its display at Comox tomorrow afternoon the RCAF has prepared a diversified segment of many of its normal operations, and a few special ones. Besides the Hawks in their Sabre jet fighters, the public will see Argus, Neptune, Canso and other aircraft; each with its individual mission and purpose in the flying services. The work of a military airfield will also be shown, with some indication of what it takes to keep aircraft in operation under all-weather conditions throughout the year. A place for model-plane enthusiasts and motion pictures will round out a busy program in RCAF style.

Interpreting the News

Concessions Expected

By ALAN HARVEY,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

THE next move in the Algerian impasse seems to be up to President de Gaulle.

With peace negotiations suspended, the French president may make a new offer to the rebels in a speech scheduled for Normandy later this week.

Although wide differences separate the two sides, the impression is that neither wants to shut the door on further talks.

The will for peace seems strong. Some observers feel that the suspension of negotiations, exposing the obstacles to agreement, may induce extremists to accept the idea that concessions must be made.

One baffling aspect of the Algerian situation is that de Gaulle, while pursuing a policy of negotiation long urged by the left, appears to be reluctant to accept any support from that quarter.

In French politics, opponents of a settlement are all on the right. There are even reports linking Premier Michel Debre himself with the die-hard settlers in Algeria, through such right-wing elements in Paris as Jacques Soustelle and Georges Bidault.

Despite the hostility of the right, de Gaulle makes no move to mobilize or direct opinion on the left as a counterbalancing measure.

If the deadlock drags on and the six-year war breaks out with new fury, the final showdown may be between the French army and his right-wing political adherents on the one hand, and a "popular front" coalition on the other uniting Communists, Socialists and other groups of the splintered left.

Politicians who foresee this outcome fear that the ultimate result might be a victory for fascism, a spectre that haunted France in the 1930s.

Thinking Aloud

By TOM TAYLOR

A SPEAKER at the Canadian authors' convention here put in a bid for a cheerful face and a levelling of humour. "Nobody seems to be happy about anything," he said. This induced me to realize that as one walks the streets downtown one seldom notes a smiling face. One can't expect, of course, that people walking singly should wear a fixed grin; it's embarrassing to smile to oneself in public. Not that you're truly much room to talk perhaps; his own visage of its natural bent is none too cheerful looking.

It may well be too that a decade and more of the cold war has pushed happiness into the background. When one allegedly walks, the edge of a nuclear precipice every day—as is constantly dimmed into us by techniques of mental infiltration—cheerfulness is apt to be subdued. Without volition of its own the face takes on one's inner feelings. And in this respect the present is a gloomy age. It might be less so, perhaps, if we didn't cross bridges until we came to them.

It is up to the author and the script writer, then, as the aforesaid speaker indicated, to banish some of the gloom and put some cheer into their writings. I was glad he mentioned the CBC, for more people watch television than read books, albeit they'd be better off if the proportions were reversed. And television these days is the most morbid medium of mass communication that exists. The macabre and the weird, not to speak of plain violent thugery, seems to obsess the minds of TV producers. Assuredly they don't wear a smile at work. If they do it must be machivellian.

The CBC can't do anything about American programs and unfortunately for it—and for Canada itself—these proliferate the theme of violence to an inordinate degree, and they are watched by millions of people in this country. Much of this current mayhem, I suppose, leaves the adult watcher as unaffected as water does a duck's back, but its influence on juveniles cannot be so easily dismissed. Even from the standpoint of entertainment the routine is boringly repetitious. In its own realm the CBC is not guiltless, however.

If the CBC does not of itself initiate the maximum of brutal gloom its network has its own cult of morbidity. It has undue fondness for the psychic, for instance, for all kinds of mental fantasy and clogging drama—some of it left hanging in the air, too—that have a depressing impact on the watcher. I suspect some of this is coined in the belief it reflects profundity, but sometimes at least it seems that a breath of wholesome fresh air would do television good.

In the end the emphasis on unhappiness and sordid themes will turn against television sponsors, for people have enough troubles of their own without shouldering those of others, even though vicariously. They will get tired of it. Hypochondria, after all, is poor entertainment, and TV's chief claim for attention is that it entertains. What is sadly lacking, as the Canadian authors' president said, is more happiness. More programs that send people to bed without risk of nightmares would be a welcome change. The world is a much cleaner place than television seems to think.

Infection in Cuba

Latin-American Relations

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON — While public attention is fixed upon our domestic political drama, the infection in Cuba is reaching the point of intolerable danger to the free world in this hemisphere.

This is not the judgment of mere hysterical "professional" anti-Communists who see Moscow agents everywhere. It is the coolly considered conviction of elevated and truly liberal political leaders of South America with whom this correspondent has talked.

These leaders have told our state department plainly that Fidel Castro has permitted Cuba to become nothing less than a bridgehead for Soviet communism within 100 miles of the United States. They have told the state department plainly that Castro is spending vast sums—whether his own or Russian money they do not say—all through Latin America to destroy Washington's leadership in this hemisphere.

And they have suggested to the state department, politely, that the United States government has so far failed to explain the realities to the American people, of whom only a tiny minority has any notion whatever of the facts of life in Cuba.

Congress has been many months ahead of the diplomats in recognizing the true nature of the Castro menace. This has been due almost wholly to a single determined Senator, George Smathers of Florida. The administration, for illustration, has now accepted what it so long resisted—the principle of reducing the large sugar subsidy we grant to Cuba.

This small step, however, will be only the barest beginning toward the development of a policy adequate to quarantine the Castro virus.

It remains clear that the United States can never afford to take the slightest military measure against Castro. World opinion would automatically bellow "imperialism," even though Castro's open alliance with the Soviet Union plainly indicates that if anybody is preparing aggression, it is surely not the "Yankee colossus," the United States.

It is becoming equally clear, however, that the whole field of Latin-American relations will be re-examined by the new administration and new congress arriving in January. Our ablest Latin-American friends believe that in our own interests (and admittedly in their interest, too) we must consider something like a Marshall Plan for this hemisphere.

The problem is now reckoned to be similar in principle to the one we faced in Europe immediately after the war. Want and chaos must be ended lest communism uses want and chaos to entrench itself.

As to the military side of the problem, Senator Smathers' tireless recommendations for a hemisphere security force under the Organization of American States are now making some headway. They were once wholly ignored. Now it can be said that some men, both in the administration and in Congress, are showing a willingness at least to examine the proposal.

It is even possible that for the first time in modern history the great complex of difficulty that is Latin America may become involved in the presidential campaign itself as an issue of consequence. It is no longer possible to look at this hemisphere. It is becoming absolutely necessary to look homeward as well sphere as a low-priority foreign policy as across the seas.

Appearance Is the Thing

By GERALD WARING

IT'S fitting that in French the word for "politics" is of feminine gender: la politique. There's a lot of the feminine about the art.

Appearance, for example — and I trust feminine readers won't think me unkind if I refer to women's great and often paramount interest in personal appearance. Well, it's the same in politics: appearance is the thing.

Of appearance, the most important aspect is youthfulness. Politicians rival women in seeking to preserve the illusion—not normally for reasons of personal vanity, but rather because of the modern, forward-looking connotation of the illusion. They love references like "young minister of..." and "youthful MP from..."

The other extreme in la politique is the euphemous "veteran" and "experienced." Rarely is a politician described as middle-aged, or old. Like the women who remain 39 interminably, your politician is youthful or a variant thereof until he's past 50.

The illusion of youth, the youthful image, is much sought by political parties as well as by political individuals. With the support of young voters in mind, the parties strive to conceal the almost universally true fact that they are controlled by oldsters.

That is why, when the Conservatives, elected John Diefenbaker as party leader in 1956 (then 60, he was no precocious strapping), they picked youthful (then 42) Premier Stanfield of Nova Scotia to deliver the keynote address. Also why Dick Bell (43) and Leon Ralcer (39) were picked as co-chairmen.

The competition to determine whether Grits or Tories appear more youthful next election is becoming keener. The Conservatives have plenty of young back benchers, although the cabinet is composed entirely of Tory veterans. But for the image, the emphasis is on the young back benchers, and on the average age of Tory MPs, which the young men drag down.

The Liberals are led by aging Lester Pearson, 63, whose main asset in this we're-younger-than-you contest is his boyish grin. The Liberal MPs, mostly survivors of the decline and fall of the Liberal empire, are older on the average than their Tory opponents.

This situation gives the Liberals additional reason to be delighted by the Grit victory in New Brunswick. Louis Robichaud, the premier-elect, is only 34 and thus the youngest of all the provincial heads in Canada. The youngest the Tories can boast is Premier Duff Roblin (43) in Manitoba.

Even Ross Thatcher, who somewhat improved the Liberals' position in Saskatchewan, is younger than Roblin. And although the premier-elect of Quebec, Jean Lesage, is 48, he still rates that elastic "youthful."

These men will be thrust into the forefront at the national Liberal rally to be held here in January. And the age of the rally organizers and, presumably, co-chairmen is no coincidence: young (36) Paul Hellyer and youthful (48) H. J. Robichaud.

I can see the Grit slogan for '62 shaping up: "Win with the Liberals, the party of young Canadians."

La politique, she's wonderful.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

ACCORDING to the traffic experts, something around 90 per cent of us who dwell in cities go to work the 260 working days of our year by exactly the same route, day in day out, year after year. Whether we go by bus, tram or motor car, we follow the identical path.

"In fact," says a traffic engineer, "more and more city people know less and less about their home town than they know about strange cities 500 miles away that they visit for a week once in their life time."

Very few of us are what might be called home-town tourists. Except for city salesmen and others whose business takes them about the city, most of us confine our travels within our native town to visiting friends and relations in a few prescribed places. And we always go there by the same familiar route. Now and again, for the heck of it, we might venture to visit some new shopping plaza on the other side of town that we had seen written up in the papers. But it is with a sense of uneasiness not experienced even when we explore a whole province to the east or west of us that we negotiate the strange streets of our home town.

No: we have certain places we go downtown, certain neighborhood stores, a path to church, a path to the dentist's, and a path to get out of town.

Roll, Bowl or Pitch

By CASSANDRA, from London

I THINK the Lord's Taverners, Prince Philip and all, had better go buy themselves a stiff drink.

What happened at the Marylebone cricketing holy of holies seems to have shown just how solemn and daft we can be about this game.

When the test match proper was finished both sides continued with an exhibition game just for the fun of it—an occasion that should have been made more joyous by the prospect that Lord Taverner Number One, Prince P. himself, was due at the ground to see the larking about.

As it was, the South African bowler Griffin was solemnly no-balled for throwing by Umpire Buller, who is the Cromwell of the cricket adjudicating business—a kind of lord chief justice of the stumps. Griffin then bowled underarm and was promptly no-balled again by Umpire Lee who threw the book at him.

I beg your pardon—bowled the book at him.

The book, in this case, was "The Laws of Cricket," Rule 26, sub-section 2, which says:

The striker is entitled to know whether the bowler intends to bowl over or round the wicket, overarm or underarm, right or left handed. An umpire may regard any failure to notify a change in the mode of delivery as "unfair," if so, he should call "No ball."

McGlew, the South African captain, apparently told Umpire Buller what he thought of it, and no doubt Old Ironsides did a Marston Moor on McGlew.

A thoroughly bad time was had by all.

At Lord's they evidently aren't all milky.

In the somewhat ponderous discussion now going on in the correspondence columns of The Guardian on the ancient question as to whether a wife should obey her husband, there is a letter from a lady, the opening and closing sentences of which are most intriguing.

She begins to the metaphorical accompaniment of a roll of drums:

"Sir, I never, from my earliest youth, had the slightest intention of obeying, or promising to obey, my husband and I did not change my mind when I actually met him..."

You can almost hear the clip of cartridges being slipped into Juliet's sub-machine gun on the balcony. But it turns out all right in the end.

With a splendid formal flourish the lady concludes her letter thus:

"I have the honor, sir, to be my husband's loving, wife and your obedient servant."

Yoga for You

And Now the Locust

By BEVERLEY WILSON
(Tenth of a series)

You've been a cobra and a lotus during our series of basic yoga postures. Now it's time to be a locust. From there you'll graduate to being a bow.

The locust—so named because you use your legs like one—helps reduce the weight in the thighs and hips, according to yoga teacher Richard L. Hittleman.

It also "massages the heart, develops muscles of the thighs and abdomen and stimulates various organs and glands."

In contrast to the cobra; the first convex bending exercise you learned, the locust bends the spinal column beginning at its lower extremity and proceeding upward.

Here's how Hittleman teaches the locust in his book, "Hatha Yoga for Today".

● Assume the same position as you start out the cobra (lie face down on floor, arms at your sides, palms facing upward, feet together). Relax and breathe easily.

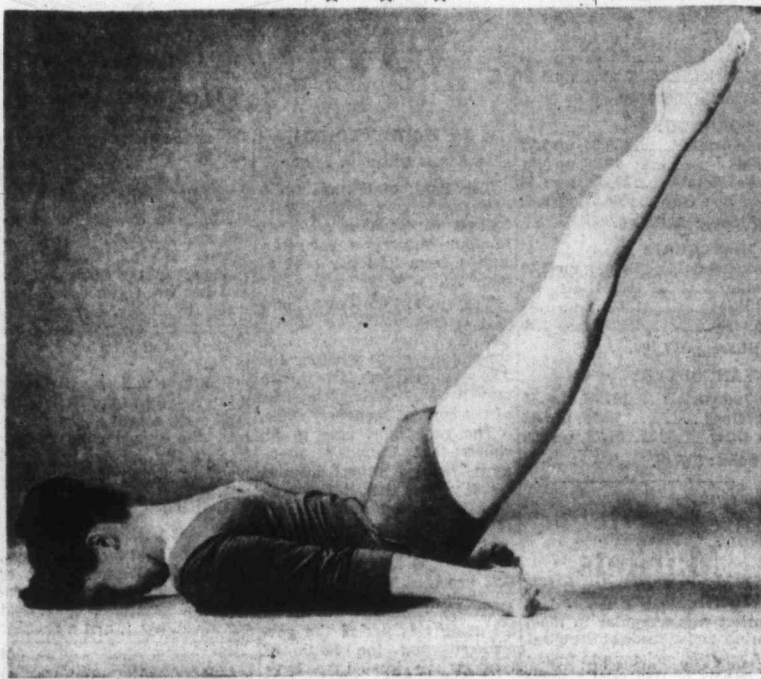

● Raise the forehead and rest the chin on the floor; make either hand into a fist and rest the fists thumb downward upon the floor near the thighs. In this position the arms are rigid and only the fists will touch the floor.

● Inhale a complete breath (you learned it earlier) and retain it.

● Make the entire body rigid and, pushing the fists hard against the floor, raise the legs as high as possible without bending the knees. Allow the groin to be raised also if you have sufficient strength to do so without a strain. In this position the pressure is transferred to the chest and lower trunk; the weight is supported by the fists and chin.

● Slowly lower the rigid legs; exhale; open the fists; turn the head to rest upon the cheek; relax completely.

Hold the extreme position of Step 4 for only five seconds to begin with. Gradually increase the duration until a maximum of 15 seconds have been reached. This may require some time to accomplish, since you must now gain control of a whole new set of muscles.

At first, execute this movement twice, later three times.

If you find yourself extremely weak in the thigh and abdominal muscles, try practicing first by raising just one leg as high as possible, keeping the other on the floor. Then reverse.

The locust is one of the more difficult yoga postures—but it's a cinch compared to its advanced version, the bow.

The bow combines the movements of the cobra and the locust and is particularly good for strengthening the abdominal muscles and reducing weight. Don't attempt it seriously until you have the cobra and the locust well in hand.

Here's how the bow is done: ● Start flat on the floor, face down, hands at your sides.

● Inhale a complete rest upon the cheek and exhale.

● Bend the knees and bring the lower legs forward so that the hands may grasp the ankles or the feet. The thighs remain upon the floor, as does the forehead.

● With a sudden motion raise the trunk as far upward as possible, with the head bent back, as in the extreme position of the cobra, simultaneously pulling up the legs with the knees together as far as possible as in the extreme position of the locust. The thighs are thus raised from the floor and the weight rests completely upon the abdomen. The breath is retained in this position.

● Lower the forehead to rest upon the floor; release the ankles (or feet); bring the arms to their original position at the sides; turn the face

Maintain the extreme position only five seconds, gradually increasing the time to 15 seconds, maximum. Execute the posture three times.

Remember, the breath ought to be retained during the entire exercise and exhaled only when the cheek rests upon the floor again.

In the beginning, your legs may be held apart when the body is raised in Step 4, but as you gain strength in this movement, the legs should be brought closer together until the knees touch, thus placing the utmost pressure in the abdominal muscles and the lower back.

Next: The "plough," an exercise said to refresh the mind.

Writers Ask B.C. For Special Grant

The provincial cabinet next week will consider a brief seeking a grant for the Canadian Writers' Foundation.

The brief was presented to deputy provincial secretary L. J. Wallace yesterday by Mrs. Theresa Thomson, executive secretary-treasurer of the foundation. Provincial Secretary Wesley Black is out of town.

TWO PROVINCES

Mrs. Thomson, wife of Don Thomson, incoming president of the Canadian Authors' Association, told Mr. Wallace that both Ontario and Quebec contribute to the foundation. A yearly grant of $6,000 is made by the federal government through the Canada Council.

Earlier, Mrs. Thomson addressed the annual convention of the CAA, which is being held in the Crystal Garden.

Other speakers during the day included Dr. Douglas Leechman of Victoria University, who spoke on the writing of factual articles; Elsie Pomroy, "Memories of Sir Charles C. D. Roberts;" Roland Goodchild, who spoke on writing one-act plays, and Mrs. C. Anthony Clark, who talked about juvenile writing.

In the late afternoon delegates had a picnic supper at Butchart Gardens and remained for the Victoria Symphony concert.

RECEPTION TODAY

Today's highlight is a reception at Government House. Most of the delegates present at the convention—almost 200—have applied to attend.

The provincial government will sponsor a wind-up banquet in the Crystal Ballroom of the Empress Hotel at 8 p.m. tonight.

India Native Appointed By Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Ranjit S. Hall, a 43-year-old Sikh, has become the first native of India to be appointed to the citizenship department.

The department announced Thursday that Mr. Hall, born in the Punjab, has been named regional liaison officer for the department in Hamilton, effective immediately.

Mr. Hall came to Canada as a child with his parents and has lived in this country since. He graduated from UBC in pre-medical sciences and physiology and took additional courses in economics and political science.

In 1947 he joined the staff of the Indian government trade commissioner's office in Toronto. Four years later he was posted to the Indian High Commissioner's office in Ottawa, where he has served until now.

Rocket Shot By Reds Ends Tests

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union has wound up rocket tests by launching a "new powerful multi-stage" ballistic rocket that was reported to have hit dead on target after an 8,078-mile flight from its secret launching site.

"All necessary data has been obtained" for the next step in the conquest of cosmic space, the report said.

Sprays Deadly To Pets

MONTREAL (CP)—Summer cottagers should keep their pets away from sprays used to kill mosquitoes, says the Canadian Council for Animals' Welfare.

"Bushes and grass along roads in the country are being sprayed at night to kill mosquitoes," it says. "Any small animal caught sleeping in the grass at the time of spraying is liable to die after terrible convulsions."

The council also appeals to vacationers not to abandon pets. "Should you not be able to find somebody you trust to take care of it, the only humane treatment is to accompany the pet to a reliable veterinarian and have it painlessly destroyed by hypodermic shot."

Longshoremen Charged In Contraband Seizure

Two Victoria longshoremen were remanded to July 15 in city police court yesterday on charges of possession of contraband liquor and cigarettes.

The men, Richard Wesley Forbes and Albert Pellett, were arrested by the RCMP after trucks of two cars were forced open June 15.

Forbes is charged in connection with possession of 980 cigarettes, 124 ounces of Scotch whisky and 10 ounces of brandy.

Pellet is charged with possession of 132 ounces of Scotch and 26 ounces of rum.

Seizure of the goods took place on a Wharf Street parking lot after a ship berthed at Ogden Point reported theft from its cargo.

Pirates Continue Heroics; Skinner Wins It in Ninth

If it's true that a team that won't be beaten can't be beaten, they can start selling Forbes Field tickets for the world series right now. Pittsburgh Pirates are that kind of a team.

The Pirates are modern baseball's greatest believers in the old saw that the game is never over until the last man is out. Their late-inning heroics this season are already legend. Last night they won for the 11th time this season in the ninth inning. But that's not all by any means. They are practically unbeatable in extra innings, have won with eight and seventh-inning rallies.

It was the fourth straight win for the Pirates, their ninth in 10 games with the Reds, and it kept them five and a half games ahead of the second-place Milwaukee Braves.

Warren Spahn got the Braves righted again with a five-hit, 20 shutout of Philadelphia Phillies.

Stan Musial, hitting like the Musial of old for the past three weeks, paced the Cards by driving in three runs. The Giants ended a run famine after 30 innings by scoring once in the third inning.

Spokane Veteran Cuts Swathe Through PNG's Top Bracket

By JIM TANG

He modestly claims that he was lucky enough to catch each of his three young opponents off their game but Dr. Mel Aspray, a 52-year-old radiologist from Spokane emerged yesterday as the big surprise of the 59th annual Pacific Northwest Golf Association tournament.

A five-handicapper, who can remember winning the Spokane city championships in 1931, Dr. Aspray barely made it into the championship flight. He hit the cut-off figure of 151 exactly on the nose, and only by following a shaky 78 with a 73 to become the 32nd qualifier. Since then, he has done some considerable damage. And, fully aware that a test which calls for 36 holes on each of the last three days is a real stamina-sapper for 52-year-olds, he has saved as much ground as possible.

He started match play Wednesday with an upset 8 and 7 win over Robert C. Smith, a well-regarded entrant from Milwaukee, Ore. who did help out by incurring 10 penalty strokes.

Yesterday, with the Victoria Golf Club's Oak Bay links swept by its notorious winds for the first time in the tournament, Dr. Aspray started out with a 6 and 4 conquest of Denny Duerden, a 21-year-old corner from Bremerton.

His next opponent was Biff Lovett, 19-year-old Houston University star from Portland who had just come up with an upset of his own by knocking off medalist and tournament favorite Erv Parent of Seattle, 2 up.

It was a see-saw struggle and it could well be that the final difference lay in the fact that Dr. Aspray had needed only 25 holes to close out his first two matches.

Lovett was one up starting the 13th, then ran into tee troubles which cost him the next two holes, driving into trouble on 13 and out of bounds on 14. Dr. Aspray took a two-hole lead on the 16th but

Willey, who had beaten Kerr and Dr. Bigelow had ended the championship hopes of the Storey family, but only after a struggle.

Kerr had Ken Jr. dormie four but was to need a par on 18 to forestall extra play. The youngster battled back to win the 15th with a par and the 16th and 17th with birdies to start home only one down.

Ken Sr. was all square with Dr. Bigelow after 15 holes, lost 2 and 1, when his opponent won 16 with a par and 17 with a birdie.

Cundari, who had beaten Kermit Zarley Sr. of Seattle and Jack Hargrave of Vancouver in his first two matches, proved his mettle when he downed Hal Jacobson of Longview, a sturdy contender, 4 and 2, in his quarter-final match.

He was four down with five holes left and dormie with three left after winning 14 when Cuthill drove out of bounds and halving 15. Kerr won 16 with a birdie, 17 with a par, and pulled even with a curling 12-foot birdie putt on 18.

Before they bowed out, Kerr and Dr. Bigelow had ended the championship hopes of the Storey family, but only after a struggle.

Before they bowed out, Kerr and Dr. Bigelow had ended the championship hopes of the Storey family, but only after a struggle.

He modestly claims that he was lucky enough to catch each of his three young opponents off their game but Dr. Mel Aspray, a 52-year-old radiologist from Spokane emerged yesterday as the big surprise of the 59th annual Pacific Northwest Golf Association tournament.

A five-handicapper, who can remember winning the Spokane city championships in 1931, Dr. Aspray barely made it into the championship flight. He hit the cut-off figure of 151 exactly on the nose, and only by following a shaky 78 with a 73 to become the 32nd qualifier. Since then, he has done some considerable damage. And, fully aware that a test which calls for 36 holes on each of the last three days is a real stamina-sapper for 52-year-olds, he has saved as much ground as possible.

He started match play Wednesday with an upset 8 and 7 win over Robert C. Smith, a well-regarded entrant from Milwaukee, Ore. who did help out by incurring 10 penalty strokes.

Yesterday, with the Victoria Golf Club's Oak Bay links swept by its notorious winds for the first time in the tournament, Dr. Aspray started out with a 6 and 4 conquest of Denny Duerden, a 21-year-old corner from Bremerton.

His next opponent was Biff Lovett, 19-year-old Houston University star from Portland who had just come up with an upset of his own by knocking off medalist and tournament favorite Erv Parent of Seattle, 2 up.

It was a see-saw struggle and it could well be that the final difference lay in the fact that Dr. Aspray had needed only 25 holes to close out his first two matches.

Lovett was one up starting the 13th, then ran into tee troubles which cost him the next two holes, driving into trouble on 13 and out of bounds on 14. Dr. Aspray took a two-hole lead on the 16th but

Willey, who had beaten Kerr and Dr. Bigelow had ended the championship hopes of the Storey family, but only after a struggle.

Kerr had Ken Jr. dormie four but was to need a par on 18 to forestall extra play. The youngster battled back to win the 15th with a par and the 16th and 17th with birdies to start home only one down.

Ken Sr. was all square with Dr. Bigelow after 15 holes, lost 2 and 1, when his opponent won 16 with a par and 17 with a birdie.

Cundari, who had beaten Kermit Zarley Sr. of Seattle and Jack Hargrave of Vancouver in his first two matches, proved his mettle when he downed Hal Jacobson of Longview, a sturdy contender, 4 and 2, in his quarter-final match.

He was four down with five holes left and dormie with three left after winning 14 when Cuthill drove out of bounds and halving 15. Kerr won 16 with a birdie, 17 with a par, and pulled even with a curling 12-foot birdie putt on 18.

Before they bowed out, Kerr and Dr. Bigelow had ended the championship hopes of the Storey family, but only after a struggle.

Saves Children

Boy, 14, Hero In B.C. Fire

KELOWNA (CP)—A 14-year-old boy saved five children Thursday as fires burned out of control over 1,000 acres of bush land in British Columbia's interior Okanagan district.

Raymond Webber, 14, who has never driven, piled the children into the car and drove off as flames approached a home he was visiting.

The spreading brush fire in the Westbank area, 10 miles from here, destroyed the home 30 minutes later.

Meanwhile forest service officials said the bush country in the Okanagan "blew up" Thursday after days of hot, dry weather. Several fires were fanned by 20-mile-an-hour winds.

Three scrub and grass fires in the north end of the valley 200 miles east of Vancouver—at O'Keefe's Corner, Oyama and Okanagan centre—were expected to be out of control most of the night.

PICNIC BLAMED
The Westbank fire was believed to have been started by a careless picnicker. At one time it threatened 20 residences and the $300,000 Westbank Co-operative Packing plant.

An earlier report said Paul

Spicer, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Spicer, drove his mother and sister away from the fire.

But it was the Webber boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Webber, and nephew of the Spicers, who saw that the flames were rapidly approaching.

He said although he had no knowledge of a car, he piled Paul, Edna and four-month-old baby Spicer and two children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cornish into the car and drove off.

DON'T KNOW
Mrs. Spicer remained a few minutes longer to collect what possessions she could and then escaped as the flames moved to within feet of her home.

"I don't know why I did it," Raymond said in an interview. "I just merely ran to the car, told the kids to get in and drove off."

Air Pioneer Dies Here

Tom Cowley Flew 175 Types of Craft

Air Vice-Marshal Arthur Thomas Noel Cowley, 70, pioneer Canadian flier and former director of air services with the federal transport department, died here yesterday after a lengthy illness.

Winnipeg-born Tom Cowley piloted 175 types of aircraft—more than any other Canadian—during his 40 years in Canadian aviation. He had been in retirement here since 1954.

As a senior RCAF officer and civilian flying authority, he flew regularly and added new types of aircraft to his "collection" at every chance. He stayed on the ground under doctor's orders, but not until flying a jet plane at the age of 62.

He retired from the transport department after a bout of pneumonia contracted at an international weather conference in Paris in 1954.

He got his air training under J. A. D. McCurdy, first man to fly in Canada.

In the First World War, he was forced down in the English Channel, picked up by a German destroyer and held prisoner for 2½ years.

Ottawa Turns Tap Builders 'Used' To Create Jobs

EDMONTON (CP)—House builders are being used by the federal government as a "tool" to create jobs when unemployment mounts, Graham Lount, first vice-president of the National House Builders Association said Thursday.

The Winnipeg contractor told a press conference reports the federal government may release as much as $200,000,000 for direct home building loans indicate Ottawa is worried about the employment situation.

Mr. Lount, here for a mid-year directors' meeting, said Ottawa appeared ready to use the house building industry to "pick up the slack" in employment.

C. C. Holmes of Toronto, president of the NHBA, said the house building industry in Canada could never be stable while the government turned the flow of mortgage money "off and on like a kitchen tap."

House builders were operating at 20 per cent of capacity, and the resultant inefficiency meant only increased costs.

Mr. Holmes said the number of homes built in the first five months of 1960 is down 39 per cent from the same period in 1959, and NHA-built homes have been cut by 68 per cent.

He said the NHBA wants the federal government to gradually withdraw from direct lending for house building, but still guarantee loans so that private lenders would be lured back into the field.

Doctor Wouldn't Treat Wife

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mrs. Evelyn Rosaline Geralt, 25, former Miss Michigan in the 1955 Miss America contest, charged in divorce court yesterday her physician-husband refused to take her temperature when she was ill.

"It was like being a shoe-maker's wife without shoes," she complained.

Water Rate Meeting Hopeful?

Victoria and Esquimalt legal and financial officials met yesterday to try to reach agreement on new water rates.

Result of the meeting was not expected to be made known pending further consideration, except in the event of failure.

If no agreement is reached, the Public Utilities Commission will hold a public hearing Tuesday. The city is water distributor for Esquimalt, and Esquimalt has opposed some factors in the city's calculation of a "fair return."

Took Her Trusty Axe . . .

Little Linda, Crimestopper

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—A limping from the pick-axe burglar made the mistake of trying to rob Linda Vallar's home Wednesday.

She told police she found a youth forcing open a living room screen.

When he started inside, she picked up a pick-axe handle from a table and rapped him on the shins. She dropped the weapon and ran upstairs to get her brother's pistol. As the burglar came up the stairway, she fired three blank cartridge shots at him.

The burglar had enough. He fled into the nearby woods.

Persistent Sun Delays Concert

Victoria Symphony Orchestra's first concert for the season in Butchart Gardens last night was held in an enlarged sound shell, in a new setting.

Some 5,000 persons covered the new lawns in what used to be the nursery area with deck chairs, tubular aluminum chairs, row seats, wooden stools and blankets.

Many persons—including more than 100 delegates from the Canadian Authors' Association convention being held at the Crystal Garden—arrived early, strolled through the gardens and had picnic suppers as they waited for the concert to begin.

Victoria's persistent sunshine delayed the start of the concert for about 20 minutes.

In its new position, at the east end of the area, the orchestra stage faces directly into the setting sun, making it difficult for the musicians to see their music.

As the sun went down, conductor Hans Gruber walked onto the stage and conducted the orchestra in "God Save the Queen" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

The program included Beethoven's overture, "Consecration of the House"; Haydn's 97th Symphony, and a suite from "South Pacific."

Soloist Cornelius Ophof sang selections from "Porgy and Bess," "Show Boat," "Carman," "Il Trovatore" and "The Masked Ball."

Ferry Service Main Topic At Ganges Cabinet Session

The provincial cabinet will meet at Ganges on Salt Spring Island next Thursday at 2 p.m. at Harbor House Hotel.

Ferry transportation to and from the various Gulf Islands is expected to be the subject of several briefs, including one from Capt. O. H. New of Coast Ferries Ltd., who it is understood, has a plan to take over all Gulf Islands transportation. He now operates a ferry service to the mainland, which takes in some of the Gulf Islands.

ADDRESS MEETING

Premier Bennett and Recreation Minister Earle Westwood will address a public meeting on Harbor House Hotel grounds, following a buffet supper there. There has been some speculation that the premier will make an important announcement.

The cabinet will leave Swartz Bay for Fulford on the Gulf Islands ferry at 1:05 p.m. Thursday and will return to Victoria on a special ferry at 9:30 p.m.

CATER TO 250

Plans have been made to cater for 250 persons at the buffet supper, which will be open to the public who obtain tickets.

The Hoover dam on the Colorado River, irrigating vast stretches of Arizona and California, marks its 25th anniversary in 1960.

"As far as the individual contributions are concerned, these have come mainly from people of medium and lower income brackets, people who are generally interested in higher education or who have children. The disappointment in the personal gifts division has been the scarcity of large individual gifts."

Carl Pendray's $10,000 cheque, he said, remains the largest individual contribution.

False Arrest Claimed By Scott

Second-hand dealer W. A. Scott, unsuccessful in a recent bid to claim damages for false arrest, has written to the city police commission claiming he was falsely arrested again early yesterday.

He asks for an apology "or at least some reasonable explanation by your local police authorities."

Mr. Scott said he was arrested at Oak Bay Junction at 2 a.m. yesterday by a junior police officer. He said he was walking to his Newport Avenue home after spending the evening with a friend and having a couple of beers before heading home.

Police said an officer brought Mr. Scott into headquarters for questioning. They said there was no intention of detaining him and they even offered to drive him home, an offer refused by Mr. Scott.

Mr. Scott tried in vain to collect damages from the police commission for false arrest earlier this year after he had been acquitted by an Assize Court jury of a charge of possessing stolen goods.

HAVANA (AP)—Premier Castro rallied his supporters Thursday for a continuing battle against what he called the insane and stupid action of President Eisenhower in slicing Cuba's sugar exports to the U.S.

He delayed, at least for the time being, his threat to seize all property of U.S. holders "down to the nails in their shoes."

And it was disclosed that Cuba had turned to the U.S. this week for needed supplies of corn for its poultry industry and for rice to bolster its food supply.

REALLY STRONGER

Castro said Cuba, with the people and right on its side, is "really stronger than the oligarchy of the United States."

He will appear Sunday before a mass meeting of his Confederation of Cuban Workers. The appearance is expected to be climaxed by some new move against U.S. property.

ASYLUM SOUGHT

There was a new flood of applicants for visas at the U.S. embassy after Castro's speech, as more and more Cubans sought to leave for asylum in the U.S.

A growing number of Americans was also reported to be preparing to pull out.

In Washington, U.S. strategists looked for joint action by the Organization of American States as a further step toward curbing Castro.

The OAS may vote today to hold a meeting within the next few weeks on the issue.

MOMENT OF HATE

Castro predicted Cuba would win its sugar battle "as we are winning the battle of oil." He said the U.S. "acted against us in a moment of hate, degradation, insanity and stupidity" and in cutting sugar imports by 700,000 tons was trying to ingratiate itself with other countries.

Brazil, the Philippines, Mexico and Peru were mentioned as possible markets where the U.S. might now buy sugar.

King Fisherman Contest

Big Springs Off Albert Head!

There are fish around in Victoria waters big enough to topple Lee McClintock and his 44.2 spring from the lead in The Daily Colonist King Fisherman contest spring division.

This was demonstrated Tuesday evening by Mickey McInnes, 3766 Duke Road, who landed a 42.14-pound spring at Albert Head to take second place. Albert Head is not generally considered hot fishing grounds, but McInnes boated 30.5 and 15.8 springs on the same trip. He says he is a tyro and needed help to assemble his gear.

Lampson Signal 'Doing Job'

A new traffic signal light installed at the intersection of Esquimalt Road and Lampson Street this week "is working very well," said Reeve A. C. Wurtele. It breaks up rush hour traffic allowing pedestrians to cross and homeward bound residents of the Monroe district to make a left-turn across approaching traffic on Esquimalt Road.

Tourists Will Pan Their Own In Restored Gold Rush Town

Victoria Gyros were given a glimpse of gold rush days in the Cariboo when they were addressed this week by Willard Ireland, provincial librarian and archivist.

He detailed the work started in 1957 to restore the town of Barkerville to something like its former glory in the 1860s. "We are trying to reconstruct not only a region but a period of history as well."

The main problem, however, was a modern one—parking.

Last year about 100,000 people, tourists still will be allowed to visit Barkerville and they pan for gold themselves. "People did not want to photograph in freezing water, and they might find a few flakes," he said.

Meanwhile, said Mr. Ireland, "We are trying to reconstruct not only a region but a period of history as well."

The main problem, however, was a modern one—parking.

THE BRITISH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY LIMITED

Peace Oil

Deadline Nearing For Line

Peace River Oil Pipe Line (B.C.) Ltd. will lose its right to build a $9,500,000 oil transmission line in northern B.C. if it doesn't get the project started by Aug. 1.

Peace River won from three other companies last December the right to build the 113-mile line which would run from the Beaton River, Mulligan, Dog River and Boundary Bay fields to the B.C.-Alberta border by way of Dawson Creek.

A $3,600,000 section of line in Alberta would connect the Peace River gathering system to the Trans Mountain Pipeline at Edson, Alta.

BECOME VOID

A government official said yesterday that the company's licence to build the B.C. section of the line will become void if construction is not started by the Aug. 1 deadline.

Some observers say that terms laid down by the provincial government for the line are discouraging the promoters.

DEMAND DIVERSION

The government has demanded that oil from the area to be served by the company must be diverted to an all-B.C. pipeline when reserves become sufficient, and that cost of the Alberta section of the line cannot be reflected in the rate to B.C. users.

Smoke Inspector:

Industry Doing Bit
To Curb Cinders

PHILIP WILKINSON
... walks out of meeting

Executive Silent

SPCA Manager
Quits in Dispute

Philip Wilkinson, secretary-manager of the Victoria branch, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, resigned his job last night after differing with executive officials "on matters of policy and administration."

SPCA president Cameron Webster said, Mr. Wilkinson's resignation was unanimously accepted by the executive with regret.

NO EXPLANATION

"Beyond that I will go no further," he said. The president refused to say whether the resignation would become effective immediately.

"We do anticipate we will engage a new secretary-manager," added Mr. Webster.

Mr. Wilkinson, appointed to the job 11 months ago, apparently walked out midway through the regular monthly meeting of the SPCA executive last night.

"All I can say at this time is that I have resigned my position as a result of differences of opinion on matters of policy and administration," he told the Colonist.

SPCA officials attempted to hush up the matter.

Told that Mr. Wilkinson had made a statement, an executive member said: "He had no right to do that. Anyway, how could he say what happened when he left before the meeting was over?"

Other officials said there had been no discussion on SPCA policy at the meeting.

Humidity Rising

1,000 Loggers Out
But End in Sight

DUNCAN — Closure of all large woods operations on the upper island has put more than 1,000 loggers out of work. But company officials don't expect it to last long. Longest shutdowns in recent years was in 1952 when operations stopped for two months.

The sudden drop in temperatures and humidity increase yesterday made some officials hopeful of starting work on the weekend, but most are preparing for a start again on Monday.

DOWN TO 78

Temperatures at Cowichan Lake, a good average for the area, were measured at 93 on Wednesday and 78 yesterday. Forest service men measured the humidity at 43 yesterday compared to 31 on Wednesday. MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River officials said they had

Plaza Worry
To Owners
Near Hillside

Nine homeowners on Shelbourne opposite the site of the Hillside Plaza shopping centre petitioned city council yesterday to do all possible to protect their properties from devaluation.

They said their homes already had been reduced in value by commercial development in the area.

New Burners
New Fuels
Cut Nuisance

By R. O. MARRION

Victoria industry can't be accused of failing to try to cut down smoke and cinders, despite continuing complaints.

Co-operation of plant operators has resulted in marked progress in alleviating the nuisance, particularly the cinder problem, smoke inspector Thomas Walker said yesterday.

IMPROVEMENTS CITED

Mr. Walker cited these improvements:

The three major commercial laundries, all burning wood waste, have been equipped with "magic eye" smoke indicators which ring alarm bells when smoke becomes too dense, and New Method has installed an inclined grate which results in cleaner combustion. (And, Mr. Walker said, the mills will eventually produce less burnable waste, and wood-burners will have to switch to cleaner fuel.)

SPREADER TYPE

The Empress Hotel laundry "is making a wonderful improvement." Previously using a spreader-type coal stoker which sent a large amount of fine ash up the chimney, the laundry is now installing oil equipment.

The Moore-Whittington mill, formerly a major contributor to the cinder problem, last year put in a waste burner which, Mr. Walker said, is "the lesser of two evils."

LOW VELOCITY

It produces smoke, he said, but "instead of spreading cinders all over the country" it has a low velocity and slow fire and emits no cinders.

The Smith Cedar Products mill at the west end of Point Ellice bridge also built a waste burner with similar results.

CINDERS SETTLED

The McCarter Shingle Co. mill at Rock Bay has installed a water spray to settle the cinders before they go up the smokestack, and is spending $175 a month on water for this purpose.

At the B.C. Forest Products sawmill, $22,000 has been spent on a cinder skimmer to remove cinders by centrifugal force, and another $22,000 on turbine improvements to cut down the load on the boilers, Mr. Walker said.

COSTS $25,000

And, an important step, BCFP has installed chipping equipment costing $25,000 in conjunction with its edge-planers which, instead of producing shavings, produces pulp chips and saves eight truckloads of waste wood a day from being turned out and burned. The company hopes to install similar equipment for other planing operations.

Besides these improvements, Mr. Walker said, more than 100 buildings in Victoria have switched in the last few years from coal to oil as a fuel.

Bid to Save
Infant Fails

A five-week-old baby found unconscious in her home yesterday was pronounced dead by a family physician after city firemen tried in vain for 40 minutes to revive her.

Body of Jodi Alwyn Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Clark, 2724 Forbes, was transferred to Royal Jubilee Hospital for a post-mortem to determine cause of death.

City firemen, called to the residence about 5 p.m., applied artificial respiration, including the mouth-to-mouth method, for 40 minutes.

Keep Park Area
Council Urged

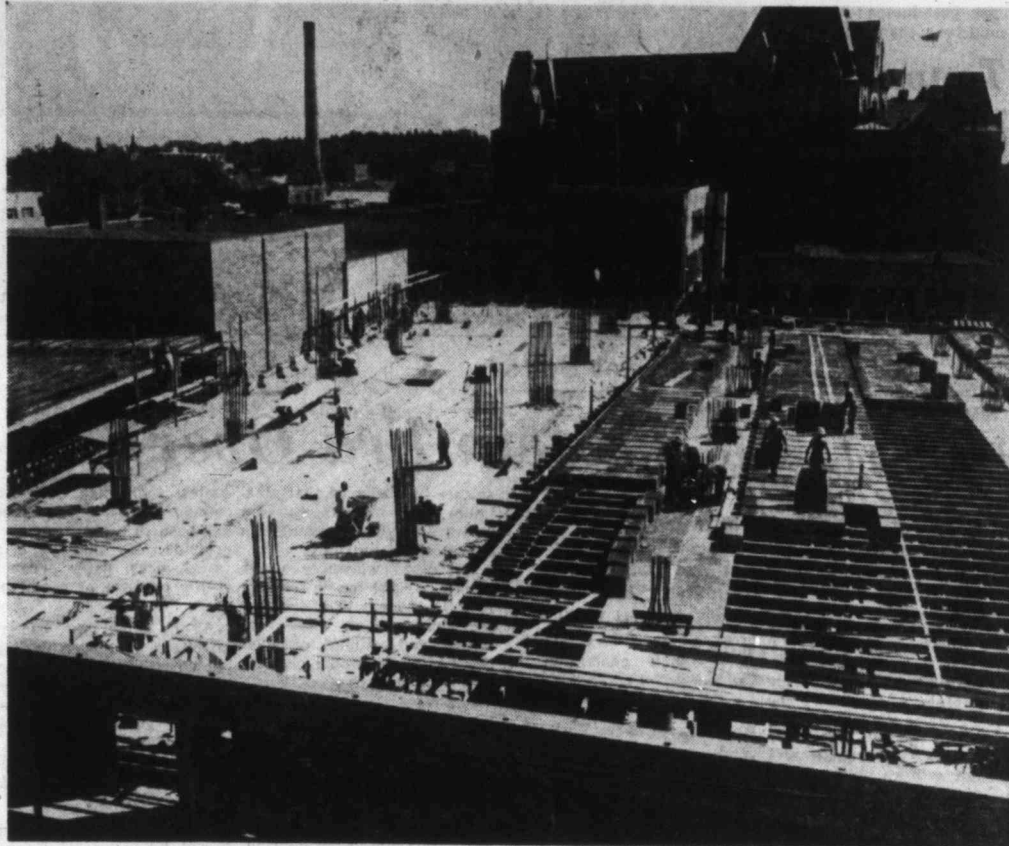

Victoria's recently formed Conservation Council yesterday took issue with city council listing for sale property on Belleville adjoining the British America Paint Co. plant.

The conservation group urged council to retain and develop the single lot involved as "park and esplanade."

City Tax Collections
Behind 1959 Pace

City tax collections are behind last year's as a proportion of total levy, City Comptroller Dennis Young said yesterday, but the picture doesn't look as bad as it did a month ago.

The proportion collected to the end of June, he said, was 86 per cent lower than last year, "but this is not a serious situation," he said.

Summer Job for Winter Vote

Trustees Drafting
New Schools BidBoard Bylaw
To Stress
Junior Highs

By IAN STREET

Greater Victoria school board officials are meeting daily to draft a new school building bylaw that will be put to a vote this December.

Following the windup of the school term, July was set aside for a "concerted effort" to formulate plans for new classrooms and facilities, said school superintendent John Gough.

Trustees, faced with responsibility of fully informing the public of the need for more classrooms to keep pace with a growing school population, seldom fail to mention the proposed bylaw in their public appearances.

SIFT INFORMATION

Until a vast amount of information has been gathered and sifted by officials, however, no start can be made on actual planning.

In broad terms, it has already become apparent that emphasis will be placed in the forthcoming building program on accommodation mainly at the junior high school level. But the location of additions remains to be picked.

LATEST SURVEY

Latest survey for the board was made this spring by picked students from each of the district's elementary schools. They gathered information on the number of pre-school children living in Greater Victoria.

Final results of this survey have still to be announced. But a board spokesman said officials are debating just how much confidence to put in the results obtained.

FEWER STARTING

The survey showed that a much smaller number of children will enter elementary schools in the next few years than was indicated by earlier long-range predictions.

Mr. Gough said the sharp drop is out of line with continuing growth at the primary level and added he felt results of the latest survey are "too conservative, out of our experience."

Meanwhile, principals of all Greater Victoria schools have been asked to submit statements of their needs for the immediate future.

DAILY MEETINGS

Daily meetings of top officials continue, sifting and assessing the information they receive from all parts of the school system, before entering the final planning stage.

Trustees said they hoped to have a statement of the classroom needs and an estimate of the total cost by the end of August or early September.

Elk Lake

Girl's Foot
Gashed
By Glass

An 11-year-old girl visiting the Victoria area ran into the water for a swim at Elk Lake last night, stepped on a broken bottle and received a six-inch gash across the sole of her foot.

Wendy McNeill of Wellington, near Nanaimo, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by Saanich police ambulance.

"It's a shame these children can't go into the water without being cut up," said a nurse at the hospital where the girl was treated. "There's been so much of this lately. She had just run into the water when it happened."

Saanich police reiterated that they will take firm steps against anyone caught breaking bottles at beaches where persons might fall victim to the jagged pieces of glass.

GORGE BEACHES

Fleming (Kinver) beach, 330; Saxe Point, 230; Kinsmen Gorge pool, zero; Kinsmen Gorge Park beach on Gorge, 40; Tillamook beach below Gorge bridge, 40; Gorge at foot of Inez, 61; Rockwell beach, 130.

Foot of Beechwood, 330; foot of Boyd, 220; Gonzales, 45, although recent average has been about 200; Horseshoe Bay, 790; foot of Government, 790; Eagles' Park, Elk Lake, 33; northwest corner, Elk Lake, 5; Beaver Lake, 23; Thetis Lake, 2; Prospect Lake, 17.

ROSS BAY OUT

Glen Lake, 31; Langford Lake, 23; Portage Inlet, 13; Cadboro Bay, 33; Cordova Bay, 95.

Ross Bay, where swimming is banned as it is in the harbor and below Banfield Park because of pollution, had a recent count of 4,600.

'OFF-COLOR'

Although the bacteria counts are low at the beaches where swimming is not banned, the Victoria-Esquamalt health department noted yesterday that "it is important to stay from the water if you are 'off-color' or are suffering any infection, however slight."

Overcrowded swimming places should be avoided, the department said. "Because there is always the danger of being infected by other swimmers, except perhaps in a properly operated artificial pool where a high disinfectant content is maintained to take care of any infection introduced."

WADING POOLS

"The local artificial pools at the Crystal Garden and YMCA and the wading pools in the three parks are constantly supervised and one can be assured of a continuing safety standard."

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: This may sound like a small problem to you but it has caused me quite a lot of embarrassment.

We're going steady and plan to become officially engaged next year. Jerry works for his father who is an independent excavator, someone who digs out the dirt so the foundation of a new building can be put in.

When we go out on dates Jerry picks me up in his dump truck. I don't mind, except it's embarrassing when he takes me to a drive-in. They make us park way on the side.

I know this isn't the worst thing that could happen to a girl, but it is a problem. Can you help?—TERRY.

Dear Terry: I'm glad you realize this isn't the worst thing that could happen to a girl.

Since the embarrassment is acute only when you go to a drive-in ask Jerry if he can work out double-dates with someone who has a sedan. If you make an issue of it you might get dumped—and that would be a shame.

Horrible Temper

Dear Ann Landers: My aunt lost her husband after 18 years of the unhappiest marriage on record. This aunt put on a show at the funeral that Katherine Cornell couldn't match. Everyone knew he was a perfect saint for putting up with her horrible temper.

My uncle liked me very much and always said he wanted me to have his gold and emerald cuff links which belonged to his father. When I told her about this she said she never heard him mention giving me the cuff links, but she offered to sell them to me for $75.

My parents are furious but they are willing to buy them if you say it's the thing to do. I have $30 saved and would be happy to put that amount toward the cuff links. What do you say?—NEPHEW.

Dear Nephew: It's very generous of your parents to offer to buy the cuff links and I think you're nice to want to chip in the $30. I say go ahead if the cuff links have deep sentimental value. In the years to come you'll be glad you did.

Baby Totally Blind

Dear Ann Landers: I'm heartbroken. My sister had a baby girl after 10 years of marriage. She and her husband were so thrilled to have been blessed with a child after they had all but given up hope. Yesterday the doctor confirmed their suspicions. The little girl is totally blind.

Where can we find words to console them? Please, Ann, tell us what we can say to these distraught people in their hour of darkness. Is there any word of encouragement at a time like this?—WITHOUT WORDS.

Dear Without Words: Buy the parents a copy of "The Life of Helen Keller." At the age of 19 months, this truly remarkable woman was stricken with an illness which left her not only blind but deaf.

She graduated from college with high honors and went on to be one of the most brilliant and productive women of our time. Today at 79, Helen Keller is still doing a marvelous job for the blind all over the world. Her life's story is an inspiration for handicapped people everywhere.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone else of health and dignity, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For the Alcoholic," enclosing your request, 50 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

TIPS FOR PARENTS

By HELEN R. HEWSON

A group of discerning women have opened a special toy shop for some very special children.

The women are members of an auxiliary to a children's home. The children have no families of their own and because of unfortunate circumstances and experiences have developed emotional and behavior problems.

They are placed in the home for treatment that helps them to regain confidence in themselves and others, and prepares them for adoption.

The toy shop is a give-away shop. Nothing is for sale. There are toys for birthdays and Christmas and a toy for each child when he moves to a foster home or adopted home.

He takes with him something of his very own, chosen by him, and it helps to bridge the gap between his old life and his new.

Children's knowledge is limited, the transfer of learning from one experience to another is uncertain. They put their confidence in people and things.

The small child who is going visiting likes to take along a favorite toy. It may be forgotten when he arrives at a friend's house but it is a comfort to have an old and familiar object near by.

Many children are more contented in the quietness of their cribs when they have a soft, stuffed animal to cuddle at night.

Garden Tea Planned By IODE

The garden of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baker, 3325 Rolston Crescent, will be the setting for a garden tea to be held by the Florence Nightingale Chapter, IODE, on Thursday, July 14 from 2:30 till 5 p.m.

Mrs. P. B. Scurrah will open the affair and Mrs. G. C. Baker, regent, will receive the guests. Mrs. Owen Fowler, Mrs. A. Warren Smith, Mrs. A. B. Hall and Mrs. A. McAllister have been invited to pour.

Tea conveners will be Miss S. M. Hurst and Mrs. W. N. Lenfesty assisted by Mrs. Moulton Smith and Mrs. A. Mills.

Home cooking stall will be convened by Mrs. A. Minnis, Mrs. J. Neilans and Mrs. A. Macdougall.

Mrs. W. R. Roskelley will read tea cups.

St. Andrew's Garden Party

Mrs. J. W. Alton, left, president of the evening group of Richmond Road Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Albert Wilson, president of the Couples' Club who will serve tea, and Mrs. C. H. Maclean, right, who will open the affair at 2 p.m.

Bigger Not Better

Is Protein Era Over?

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—The whole scientific basis for infant and child feeding is scientifically challenged, especially its goal which is to produce bigger and better men and women generation by generation.

However, Prof. L. Emmett Holt, Jr., of New York University College of Medicine, wasn't questioning body size being useful in a few callings, "such as professional wrestling and barroom bouncer."

Otherwise mere bigness has no value for people. Yet for a long time now nutritional science has believed that maximum growth in children meant they were getting the best possible nutrition.

Impressed whenever a rat gained weight on a certain food, it added that food to the human diet. Holt continued, and without question this has made people bigger.

"But has this resulted in better health?" he asked. He doubted it has. The best nutrition is the nutrition which best enables people to "resist disease and other stresses."

In total number of calories per person and in the distribution of those calories among proteins, fats, and carbony-drates, there has been little change, he said. The change has been in a marked gain in proteins of animal origin (meat, eggs, dairy products) at the expense of cereal proteins.

At the same time, bacterial infections have been declining but virus infections have been increasing, along with vascular and allergy diseases, and cancer. He hastened to add that this parallel did not establish a relationship. And other factors were operating.

ASSOCIATIONS

"On the other hand," he continued, "it seems a little more than a coincidence that so many of the diseases that are emerging on the American scene are those which in animals are associated with a high-protein intake."

"In the light of our present uncertainties and the suggestive evidence that we may have passed the optimum protein intake for meeting some of our important stresses, are we justified in continuing to enrich our diets with protein?"

For several generations, nutritional science has believed that only an insufficiency of one or another element of diet constituted a "risk" to the person eating it. Now there is a trend to accept that there is a risk to accept that there is too much as well as too little. That trend he endorsed.

LANGFORD WI

LANGFORD WI—The regular meeting of the Langford WI took the form of a strawberry tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McDowell, Millstream Road.

It was reported that the WI conference will be held at Happy Valley on Sept. 22. The border picnic will be held at Beacon Hill on Aug. 4.

POTATO SALAD

Cook 2 pounds new potatoes in their jackets in boiling salt-

Cool, peel and cut into 1/2-inch dice. Combine 1/2 cup tangy salad dressing, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 2 tbsp chopped sweet pickle, 1 tbsp sweet pickle juice, 1 tbsp vinegar, 2 tbsp chopped green pepper, 2 tbsp chopped onion, 1/4 tsp. dry mustard, 1 tsp. sugar, 1/4 tsp. celery seed, salt and pepper to taste, 3 hard cooked eggs chopped and 2 pounds cooked and cleaned shrimp, whole or broken in pieces not too small.

LET STAND

Pour over potatoes and lightly mix. Let stand at room temperature several hours to blend flavors. Garnish with stuffed olives, radish rosebuds or slices of boiled eggs or pimiento. Serve well chilled on lettuce leaves. Makes 8 generous portions.

Always cook potatoes with jackets on to conserve this vitamin and flavor and never overcook potatoes or leave them standing in water before cooking.

During the hot weather when cold dinners are popular the potato salad appears in the salad bowl more often than any other salad.

Deb's Guests Fed Inside London Zoo

By STEWART MacLEOD

LONDON (CP)—Just because Britain's debutantes do not meet the Queen any more—a practice that was discontinued two years ago—it doesn't mean these budding belles of society are being launched without all due fanfare. On the contrary, they are coming out with unprecedented gusto.

Where a royal handshake and conventional Mayfair party once did the trick, the new deb's are hitting society in a dizzy whirl of unconventional frolics. There is no doubt about it, they are having a ball. And their parents are no doubt having a financial nightmare.

COMING OUT ALL OVER

The apparent determination to come up with something different, has resulted in deb's holding their inaugural flings on chartered ferry boats, rented airport terminals, west end night clubs and double-decker buses. A few well-heeled ones have taken their friends across to continental cities.

And things are definitely looking better. Company director Alan Campbell-Johnson took over a section of London zoo for his daughter's big night July 7.

Two other girls chipped in on this event so they also could be introduced beside the lion cages. They were fed in the zoo restaurant and danced under the stars near the tigers.

CLOSE TO EVERYTHING

"We picked the zoo because it is central and convenient for our guests," said Campbell-Johnson. The Earl of Harrington, who brought out his daughter, Lady Jane Stanhope, the same night, doesn't share this idea about a central location. He rented a river-side estate in Buckinghamshire.

All guests were asked to wear blazers—a somewhat odd request since formal attire generally is suggested. Even more odd, was the fact that the guests were told that they must arrive by boat.

NO WET BLANKETS HERE

When it comes to water parties, Mrs. Julian Huxtable seems to know what to expect. Her daughter, Judy, is coming out at their Surrey estate and they have both a river and a swimming pool.

Knowing that boys will be boys, Mrs. Huxtable has stocked up an extra outfit of dress clothes for every male guest. If they decide to jump into the water with their clothes on, they will have a change ready.

"I am expecting a lot of casualties so I thought I would prepare for the worst," she explained.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Armstrong who were married 50 years ago today in Belfast, Ireland, will take a trip back to the land of their romance to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. They will leave here on July 26 and will spend the next three months in Ireland. On their return journey they will stop off in New York and in Winnipeg where they lived until their retirement seven years ago.

This evening there will be a family dinner party at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heigelsen, Cooper's Cove Oyster Farm. Their two sons, Mr. William and Mr. Thomas Armstrong are flying from Winnipeg for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong have seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

From Ottawa for Summer

Mrs. Ian McPhee with children, Nancy and David, has come from Ottawa to spend the summer with her parents, Cmdr. and Mrs. F. C. Adams, West Saanich Road, Sidney. Cmdr. McPhee will join his family here at the end of July and they will also visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McPhee, Burdick Avenue, before returning east in the latter part of August.

Shower for Miss Blackwood

A decorated wedding cake concealed the gifts for July bride-elect, Miss June Blackwood, at the recent miscellaneous shower given by the Misses Gail Saville and Shirley Chatfield at the Larkdowne Road home of the latter. Guest of honor was presented with a gardenia corsage. Her mother, Mrs. Thomas Blackwood, received orange carnations and the mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. Albert Thomson, was presented with yellow carnations. Guests included Mrs. Gerald Blackwood, Mrs. Roy Blevis, Mrs. Win. Brown, Mrs. Cecil Chatfield, Mrs. Garth Graham, and the Misses Betty Colebrook, Heather Hamilton and Winnie Wong.

For Val Wood

A miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Val Wood was held recently at the home of Mrs. R. McIlloin, 1165 Lyall Street, aunt of the bride-elect. Corsages of violets and rosebuds were presented to the bride-to-be, her mother, Mrs. W. Woods and to Mrs. J. West, the mother of the groom. The many gifts were concealed in a decorated basket. Those present were Mrs. J. Kennedy, Mrs. A. Ross, Mrs. B. Dodd, Mrs. B. Scott, Mrs. J. Stewart, Mrs. W. Woods, Mrs. F. Gibbins, Mrs. A. Stewart, Mrs. D. Stewart, Mrs. G. McIlloin, Jr., Mrs. G. ## Wedding in London Of Interest Here Principals in a wedding that took place in London, England, recently are members of Vancouver Island families.

Miss Gael Harling Stott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Stott of Victoria, exchanged vows with Mr. David John Huntley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Huntley of Brentwood, in St. George-the-Martyr Church, London.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, who is vacationing in England with Mrs. Stott.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of French cotton lace styled with a scoop neckline, short scalloped sleeves and a bouffant skirt. A bandeau of white tulle flowers held her shoulder length veil. Only attendant was Mrs. A. J. Walker, London, Eng., the former Miss Joey McKinnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McKinnon of Victoria. She wore a pale blue brocade tunic-style dress, with matching shoes and gloves and a veiling hat with blue roses.

Mr. Hamish Simpson, Victoria, was best man and the usher Mr. Arnold Walker of London and Victoria.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served in William Goodenough House where Mr. Walker proposed the toast.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID JOHN HUNTLEY

The new Mrs. Huntley chose a red wool jersey box-style suit with a white hat and accessories.

The newlyweds, who are both studying for their doctorates, will live at Headington, Oxford, England.

Esquimalt Wedding for Jean Woods

Valerie Jean Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Woods, 2840 Sooke Road, was married to Mr. Russell Clayton West, at a candlelight ceremony in Esquimalt United Church, recently.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. West, 240 Wilson Street.

Mrs. Connie Pyle, sang "Because" and Mrs. T. Dixon was organist.

The bride chose a floor length gown of white silk organza, with a portrait collar. Her full skirt billowed from a waist decorated with clusters of pearls and sequins.

A coronet of pearls and rhinestones held a chapel veil and cascades of red roses formed her bouquet.

Attendants wore different colored gowns of organza styled with bolero jackets, and matching headresses.

Miss Laura Leyland was maid of honor in yellow, Miss Myrna Sutherland wore pink and Miss Dorothy West was in blue. Miss Heather Woods, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown of mauve net was floor length.

Mr. William Woods, brother of the bride, attended the groom. Another brother, Mr. James Woods, and Mr. E. West, were ushers.

Rogers-Wilson

The wedding took place at First United Church recently of Mary Wilson, daughter of Mrs. H. Wilson, 1254 Basil Avenue, and the late Mr. Wilson, to Mr. Herbert Frederick Rogers, son of Mrs. H. C. Rogers, 5450 Alderly Road, and the late Mr. Rogers.

All white flowers decorated the church for the ceremony conducted by Rev. A. J. Higgins. Organ music was played by Mrs. R. Woods.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. John Wilson. Her waltz-length gown of lace over taffeta was cut on classic lines, with a taffeta bow at the back.

A lace and sequin cap held the bride's veil which was trimmed with matching lace. Red roses and white feathered carnations formed her bouquet.

Mrs. Jeanne Hill of Calgary, Alta., was matron of honor, wearing a dress of blue nylon over taffeta, and matching accessories. She carried a white bouquet of gardenias and marguerites.

Miss Linda Wiedeman, niece of the groom, came from Chicago to act as bridesmaid. Her dress and bouquet were similar to the matron of honor and she wore a head band of white marguerites.

'Witnesses' To Attend

At least 75 Jehovah's Witnesses from Victoria are expected to attend a four-day convention in Edmonton between July 29 and 31.

The delegation will be headed by Clifford Roberts, presiding minister.

The meeting will be one of three Canadian assemblies sponsored by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society of Toronto.

EXPANDING SCHOOLS
CHIBOUGAMAU, Que. (CP)—Some 40 teachers will be hired this fall to teach in expanding schools in this mining community of 4,000 population, 300 miles north of Montreal.

Master Robert J. Wilson, nephew of the bride acted as ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Cox To Live in Toronto

Pink and white gladioli decorated Knox United Church for the marriage of Pamela Mary Howe and Brian Douglas Cox. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. Ebert Howe of Vancouver. The groom is the son of Mr. Arthur H. Cox, Victoria, and the late Mrs. Cox.

Rev. Hartwell Watts officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of nylon sheer with shirred bodice and a full, flaring skirt that swept to a chapel train from the nylon-bowed back. Sleeves were lily-point. Rose applique trimmed the French illusion veil that was held by a pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Matron of honor, Mrs. J. G. Stokle, chose an aqua gown and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Colleen Jervis, niece of the bride, wore a white junior bridesmaid's gown. She carried a nosegay of tiny pink roses, white Marguerites and pink carnations.

Graham Cox, brother of the groom, was best man and ushering were Philip Abbott and James Sharp. Dr. Bert Jervis proposed the toast to the bride at a reception held in the Marine Drive Golf and Country Club.

A mauve flannel suit with boxy jacket was chosen by the new Mrs. Cox as her going-away outfit. With it she wore an organdy hat in mauve tones, black accessories and a white corsage.

PRIZE PLANT

ORILLIA, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Ron Kitchen, examining her tulip bed recently, found one tulip with three blooms.

The leaveners used in baking act as lifters. They expand the flour framework of batters and doughs so that the finished product will be light, porous and digestible. The most common leavening agents used are yeast, baking powder, soda.

On their return the newlyweds will make their home in Vancouver until September when they will move to Toronto where Mr. Cox is in his graduate year at the College of Optometry.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln-dried siding is the finest available — a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

THE LUMBER

Western red cedar lumber is noted for its exceptional durability, light weight and beautiful color, ranging from almost pure white of the narrow sapwood to reddish brown heartwood. It is very easily worked, is free from pitch, takes and holds stains, paints and enamels excellently, and is superior for gluing. Because of these qualities, Western red cedar is especially adaptable for use as bevel siding for quality homes.

DURABILITY

Western red cedar is one of the most durable species known. Its heartwood is highly resistant to decay, and can be counted on for long and worthy service where conditions favoring decay prevail.

WEATHERING

Left exposed without paint or other protective finishes, Western red cedar weathers to an intriguing grey color having little or no sheen. It is one of the most stable species of lumber, having very little tendency to cup and pull loose from fastenings when exposed to the weather.

INSULATING

Western red cedar has the highest insulating value of all commonly-used soft woods — another point in its favor as siding, and of particular importance when used as roof decking.

First Trial Ends

Death Before Firing Squad
Rhee Policemen's Fate

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The Seoul district court Thursday sentenced two former national policemen to death for shooting at student demonstrators during the uprising that overthrew Syngman Rhee's regime.

The two defendants, Chung
Wan-jung and Kwon Hi-yong, were the first members of Rhee's police force convicted of indiscriminate shooting against the demonstrators in April.

Both were charged with murder and attempted murder.
A government prosecutor at the opening of the trial June 24 had demanded the death penalty for Chung and life imprisonment for Kwon.

Under South Korean law the death sentence is automatically subject to review by a higher court.

The two defendants pleaded not guilty to the charges. But Yoo Chai-hi upheld the prosecution's accusation that the two had fired upon unarmed demonstrators including one young high school student who had already been wounded and was seeking medical treatment.

Charge for the camp is $10 for the week. Inquiries may be made to the registrar, Mrs.
Alfred Hitchen, GR 9-2046.

McGrath Exhibit
Has Wide Appeal

By INA D. D. UTHOFF

There is a very pleasant little exhibition of water colors and oils by Edward McGrath being shown in the Ker wing.
Mr. McGrath, a native of Liverpool, studied at the art school there and has exhibited extensively in London and the provinces. His water colors have been purchased by the Liverpool and Birkenhead Corporations and by dealers in London, United States and Canada.

The work is of the traditional school, showing excellent technique and fine color sense. The subject matter has a wide range, from "Cottage in Wales" to "Solway, Scotland." Then we are taken to "Galway, Ireland" and finally to France and Spain where some of his best work was done.

"Paris Exhibition" is a pastel showing a strong feeling for design, but I find "Fair at Barbizon," thought listed as "unfinished," the most powerful of the water colors and all the more lively on account of its directness of handling and clean color. This remark may be misleading because there is never any trace of uncertainty in Mr. McGrath's work, and it is never overfinished.

"Toledo," painted in 1953, possesses all the earmarks of a top-ranking water color in its quality of light and glow of color, quite differently handled from "Cottage in Wales" with its limpid coolness, and from "Cockle Houses" with its strongly defined composition and emphatic value contrasts.

We got something quite different in "Solway, Scotland."
The brush work is freer and more expressive here.

At first I thought that I much preferred Mr. McGrath's water colors to his oils but after studying "Montmartre" I changed my mind. This is broadly painted and moves well in a quiet harmony.
"Paris Etiole" and "Paris Near Madeleine" are also fine things.

This is an exhibition that should have a wide appeal;
the work is straightforward, accomplished but never too literal.

Gamble on People-Pressure

LONDON (CP)—This island nation of 50,000,000 plus has started to worry about running out of space.

Increased demand has sent land prices skyrocketing and brought charges that get-rich-quick speculators are gambling with one of the country's most valuable assets.

The government has come under fire from both Labor and Liberal party groups for failing to take action to halt the land grab in the green belts around Britain's major population centres.

LAND SHRINKING
Some indication of what has been happening was given by Basil Spence, president of the Royal Institute of British Architects and the man who designed Coventry's new cathedral.

The shrinking land supply in London has encouraged real estate operators to buy up land in the green belt, an area created around this city to preserve the countryside.

They appear to be gambling that because land is so expensive in London, the government will be forced soon to give in to pressure to release at least part of the green belt for dwelling and other construction.

Spence compared land operators to "profiteers who corner the bread supply in a besieged city."

The movement we plan would seek to work through the spread of international understanding between parents.
It would never act as a pressure group to challenge government leadership in a way that would oppose or embarrass national defence policy."

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Hees said Thursday the government hopes to formulate a "new approach" to Canada's transportation troubles by next April—based on a report from a royal commission still studying the problem.

But if the commission does not meet the April deadline, he indicated that the government could continue its hold-the-line policy on freight rates and keep up its $20,000,000-a-year
freight subsidy.

Mr. Hees made the statement as the Commons railways committee approved a government bill to extend the current $20,000,000 subsidy to reduce certain freight rates for nine months to April 30, 1961.

Silent Tribute for Arch-Foe

LONDON (UPI)—Sir Winston Churchill, in silence, paid most eloquent tribute yesterday to an old and sharp-tongued foe.

In other, more vigorous days, he and Aneurin Bevan had faced each other across the well of the House of Commons to hurl words at each other as though they were knives.

As perhaps the only Briton alive who could best the fiery Welshman in the arts of debate and oratory, Churchill chose silence to pay respect to his arch-foe lying dead.

Others spoke for him, both Conservative and Socialist. The House of Commons met, members in black ties and sombre mood, to praise the memory of the 62-year-old Bevan.

called the Conservative party "vermin." He accused Macmillan of having a "squint" in his soul.

"Though he sometimes spoke violently he was never dull. He was sometimes harsh but never trite," Macmillan's words were soft and friendly.

Bevan himself would have scoffed at them.

Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell, with whom Bevan had wrestled for leadership of the party and lost, spoke of a "peculiar change, a certain coldness and greyness that has come here" on Bevan's death.

Order of St. John Honors Victorians

Honored by the Order of St. John this week were five Victoria residents who received recommendations sanctioned by Queen Elizabeth.

Promoted to officer brother was Alexander Jarvie, brigade divisional superintendent; Mrs. Bertha D'Alroy, Superintendent of the Victoria nursing division, and Mrs. Margaret McDonald, first-aid instructor, were named serving sisters.

Surgeon Lt.-Cmdr. Chris West and CPO Alix Matte, RCN, were named serving brothers.

Boxer Floored By Sentences In City Court

A self-professed professional boxer was floored in a Victoria courtroom yesterday when he drew concurrent jail terms of six and 18 months on charges of false pretences.

Robert Francis Millette, 916 Kings, collapsed as he left the courtroom and had to be assisted through the door by a police witness and court officials.

A few seconds earlier he was visibly shaken at the sentences handed down by Magistrate William Ostler.

He was charged with obtaining goods by false pretences and cash by means of a worthless cheque.

Magistrate Ostler observed that the offences had taken place shortly after Millette had completed a previous jail term.

When counsel Alan Bigelow entered a plea for leniency on behalf of Millette's wife, the magistrate remarked, "I have sympathy for your wife, particularly because she is saddened with you, but I cannot condone this act."

Fired Pastor Keeps Silent

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. A. Ian Burnett, personal friend of the late prime minister W. L. Mackenzie King, and centre of controversy since his dismissal Friday without announced reason as pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, said simply, "I'm looking for a job, that's all."

While awaiting sentence, Millette told reporters he was a professional boxer and was due to appear on a boxing card in Victoria later this month.

Doctors to Rehash State-Care Fight

SASKATOON (CP)—The whole future of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons' campaign against state medicine may be discussed Saturday and Sunday at a meeting of the college's council here.

Dr. George Peacock, college registrar, indicated Thursday that this would be one of several questions raised at the regular monthly meeting.

Dr. Peacock also announced that Fred Strong, one of two publicists hired by the college to help guide its campaign against the CCF government's proposed medical care plan has left his position.

The college opened information centres in Saskatoon and Regina to direct its campaign

Hunter Seeks Trace of Girl

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Jim Farquharson, professional game hunter, has moved into rugged mosquito-infested bush at Red Lake to track down bears and a possible trace of a missing 21-month-old girl.

Tuesday a 12-hour search by 60 experienced woodsmen failed to find Betty Jean Masters, missing since Sunday.

Europe's Farmers Safe From World?

LONDON (CP)—The European economic community are in final proposals for a Thursday proposed agricultural policy which, if mid-1967.

adopted, will have the effect of insulating almost completely Common Market farmers from the rigors of international trade.

The modification of earlier policy proposals call for a licensing system to control stringently all imports and payment of guaranteed prices throughout the year to all farm producers. Internal price levels are expected to be well above those of international trade.

Fine way to carry on a telephone conversation!

It's a new kind of telephoning — with a hands-free, feet-on-the-desk kind of convenience. The combination of two telephone services, the Dialaphone and Speakerphone, makes this three-way telephone conversation possible.

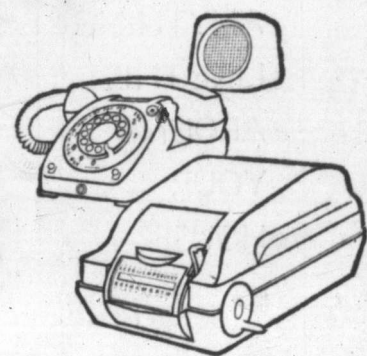

No need to rummage through directories to ferret out telephone numbers—the Dialaphone remembers them for you. This mechanical memory lists up to 800 names and telephone numbers. You can add to or change any numbers on your original list. To phone, you simply turn to a name, press a key and presto, your call is dialed — automatically!

The Speakerphone takes over where the Dialaphone leaves off. When the Dialaphone has done its job, you just sit back and carry on your conversation. Your voice goes through a tiny microphone in the base of this modern desk telephone. The voice of the person you're calling comes through a small speaker (usually hidden). The volume can be adjusted to any level. It's made to order for conferences; great for jotting down notes while you talk.

The Dialaphone and Speakerphone can be used separately or together. Both are compact, attractive, easy on the budget. They're rented. No maintenance or depreciation.

Why not try this new way to telephone? And while you're at it — how about letting our representative give your office communications the once-over? He's got a kit-full of ideas on how to make your communications more efficient and economical. He'll be seeing you soon... sooner if you make an appointment through our new Marketing and Sales Department now.

Want to know more about our Speakerphone or Dialaphone? Have your secretary phone us. In Vancouver it's MU 3-5511, Outside Vancouver, ask the Operator for Zenith 7000. (No charge for the call.) We'll send your brochures straightaway.

If I Can Live Until Tomorrow...

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—The woman was old and tired.

Grace A. Peterson, about 65, wanted to sleep in a cell at the police station. But it was against the rules.

"I'll go to a bus station," she said wearily. "Perhaps I can sleep there. If I can live until tomorrow I will receive a welfare cheque and can rent a room."

Her body was found later only half a block from the police station.

Show Business

By Dick Williams

Movie newcomer Dolores Hart made her first Broadway appearance in "The Pleasure of His Company" in the fall of 1958. But her speaking voice was so low that she enrolled with celebrated vocal coach Alfred Dixon.

Two of the exercises Dixon recommended for developing volume and resonance were deep breathing and moaning. Dolores dutifully devoted 20 minutes a day in her backstage dressingroom to moaning, a most unfeminine sound.

After a week, Miriam Hopkins, appearing in "Look Homeward Angel" at the

Ethel Barrymore Theatre across the alley came backstage and angrily confronted Cyril Ritchard, one of the stars of "Pleasure."

"You're driving us crazy with your vocal practice," she accused him. Reluctantly, Ritchard informed her that it was the company's ingenue making like a cow, not he.

So Dolores transferred her moaning exercises to her room at the Algonquin Hotel, where her reception was just as cool. From then on when she moaned, Dee turned on the shower full blast and held a pillow over her face to muffle the sound.

Lunch-Hour Music

College Concert Skilful, Pleasing

By BERT BINNY

An appreciative audience of Victoria University summer session students and members of the public yesterday enjoyed the first of the session's lunch-hour concerts.

They were entertained by the vocal duet of Margaret Abbott, soprano, and June Gruber, mezzo-soprano, who provided a recital composed of items from the works of Monteverdi, Purcell, Chausson and Dvorak.

The literature available to this combination of voices is limited, if not in quantity, at least in subject matter and variation. Nevertheless, a program of 45 minutes, offering items in four languages—English, German, Italian and French—can easily maintain its attraction.

This applies especially when that program is so faithfully and skilfully rendered as yesterday.

Purcell's "Question and Answer of the Ocean," a subtly composed piece, Chausson's "La Nuit" and Dvorak's "Der Kleine Acker" were especially pleasing and the piano accompaniment by Ian Galliford was consistently of the best.

On July 21, again at 12:15 in the auditorium, the summer session will present a 20-piece ensemble from the Victoria Symphony orchestra, with Hans Gruber conducting.

Double Feature in Park Opens Film Season

First of a series of seven film sessions and entertainment produced by the Victoria and District Film Council will be presented at 8 p.m. today in Beacon Hill Park.

The films are "Mountain Holiday in Switzerland" and "The Case of the Vanishing Blonde." Fred Usher's Home-

All performances will be sponsored by the B.C. Electric. The summer schedule through Aug. 19 follows:

July 15, Adeline Duncan Scottish dancers and Highland Wilkes plus the films "The Heart is Highland" and "The Royal Visit."
July 22, YMCA tumblers, and Mount View High School Gay 28s and the film "Canadian Evergreen Playground."
July 29, Eileen Dancing School of Dancers and "Tournament of Roses."
Aug. 5, Sons of Norway dancers and orchestra, and "Wings to Finland."
Aug. 12, Harry Hobson's band and "Breakthrough."
Aug. 19, junior talent variety show, "The Salmon's Struggle for Survival," and "The Three Bruins."

TV Rules Laid Down

OTTAWA (CP)—The privately-owned television network planned in Canada will be a flop unless most connected stations have a voice in operation, the Board of Broadcast Governors said Thursday.

Convinced that the network wouldn't be successful otherwise, the BBG set out ground rules requiring that at least six of the "second" TV stations, soon to go on the air, must have voting stock in the network company.

"This has to be a proposition that the stations are prepared to support," said board chairman Dr. Andrew Stewart. They would have "a substantial say, but not necessarily the final say" in the network's operation.

Specifically, the governors propose that at least six of the stations must hold network stock not exceeding 49 per cent of the voting shares authorized or issued by the network company. These six stations—or more—would elect half the network directors.

Ground rules will be open for public debate at a BBG hearing in Ottawa Sept. 1 and 2. The board will call for network applications up to Nov. 1, and hear the applications in late November or early December.

The board also said no TV station can become affiliated with more than one Canadian network. However, a station in the private network can obtain individual programs from the CBC or U.S. networks.

Rich Mother Chooses Stage Holiday

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why should one of the richest women in the U.S. want an international career as an actress?

"Because I love it," says Dina Merrill. "Because it's a challenge. Because I think it's good for me and my family."

Dina's mother is Mrs. Merrillweather Post of the cereal family. Her husband is industrialist Stanley Rumbough, Jr. Dina, mother of three growing youngsters, says: "I think families should take vacations from each other now and then. When I come back, my children appreciate me more."

Berry Brood Mares

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

With the strawberry crop beginning to ease off, it is about time now to do a little planning for the future and to raise some vigorous young plants from runners to replace the veterans which are "over the hill" and about due for retirement.

The purist among strawberry growers maintains special plants for the production of runners. These selected brood mares are not permitted to bear as much as one single berry—their flowers are all clipped off and their whole energy is directed into their runners. These, in turn, are thinned out until the mother plant is nourishing only two or three vigorous children.

This, of course, is the textbook way of doing things and most of us must make do with a less exacting technique. There are a few tricks of the trade we can borrow from the strawberry specialists, though, which will give us good replacement plants without too much fuss and bother.

First, it isn't a good policy to chop off all the runners while the plants are carrying their berry crop, then just take what comes along late in the season, for a plant which is pooped from making berries just hasn't the energy to develop good runners.

If we want vigor in next year's plants, retain a few of the earliest runners produced. This is because the early runners seem to have more oomph to them, and because we want our baby plants to get born early and to be nicely rooted and well established by the time a new bed is made up in late August or early September.

Not being purists, most of us take our runners from plants which are also bearing fruit. According to the book, this is supposed to be terribly exhausting to the plant, bearing fruit and runners at the same time but, to tell the truth, I have never been able to spot very much difference. In any case, I think there is some advantage in allowing the mother plant to bear some fruit, for you want to select your young plants only from parents which are good croppers.

In deciding how many plants are to be allowed to push out runners, it is a good idea to calculate how many young plants will be needed to plant up the new bed, then figure on half again as many. It is always a good thing at planting time to have more young plants in hand than you actually need. In this way, you can be a little choosy, selecting only the best for your new bed and palming off the weaklings on some unsuspecting neighbor.

This business of being choosy is the only way in which you can upgrade your strawberry plantation and it should be extended to selecting the mother plants for your runners. Avoid like the plague any which may look stunted or have curling or yellowed leaves. In fact, if you find any such plants in the fruiting bed, they should be pulled up immediately and consigned to the garden bonfire.

These are symptoms of virus infections and any wandering aphid can pick up the infection on his hypodermic dings and carry it to your healthy plants. One infected plant is a source of trouble which could devastate the whole strawberry patch. There is no cure for virus diseases and it is just plain shiftless to wait around hoping some queer-looking plants will grow out of their troubles. The ruthless destruction by fire of all suspicious plants is the only way to keep a plantation clean.

Gulls, Gaiety, Birthdays

Student Trip's First Lap

Strays Rounded Up at 5 a.m.

A group of 166 Greater Victoria high school students is touring Europe this summer on the first such tour organized for Canadian students. This report of the exciting first leg of the journey to Montreal was written by students who are keeping a written record of the trip.

For many of us, this has been the first trip across Canada. We now have a better conception of how big our country actually is. Our party of 166 members of the B.C. Student Travel Association, accompanied by seven supervisors, is now in Montreal.

We arrived at the Gare Centrale after a five-day train trip from Vancouver. We are waiting for buses to take us to Dorval where we'll board a plane for London and the start of the seven-week European trip. We left Victoria on Dominion Day with the good wishes of our parents and friends ringing in our ears. And, though at times we are a tiny bit homesick, every one of us is looking eagerly ahead.

On the ferry bound for Vancouver our high spirits soon shattered the peace and quiet of the other passengers. Outside on deck the seagulls were doing their worst. Karen Dickson and Dave Humphries were both hit by seagulls which had obviously not been housebroken.

In the coffee shop aboard ship Carol Johnson and Marge Howell gave the waiter a tip of one penny.

We boarded our train in Vancouver. We soon went to work and had it fixed up just like home. That first night, because of the excitement and the vibrating and rolling of the cars, we slept very little.

Eventually, however, most of us got to sleep for one or two hours. We awoke at Kamloops, in time to see Mr. Mercer (the tour director), in shorts, running up and down the station platform at 5 a.m. rounding up errand members who left the train when they weren't supposed to.

We had to wait three hours while repair crews fixed a washout on the tracks. A freight train had been wrecked and we heard that some pigs and cattle aboard had been killed. That evening we had pork sausages for dinner.

Our meals have been quite good. The first night our meal was light, and we thought we were going to go hungry this trip, but they soon picked up and we are now doing fine. We eat cafeteria style and serve ourselves.

It takes about two hours to feed us; almost an hour and a half for the girls, and about half an hour for the boys.

Despite these precautions, however, somebody bought a garlic roll that didn't react too well with dinner. Larry Johnston rushed madly to an open window with a train version of seasickness.

The monotony of travelling had to be broken occasionally with some excitement. Barbara Chessman put her foot through the window of a sleeping car. Fortunately, the only damage done was to the window.

We stopped at Jasper where we were mainly impressed by the amount of dust blowing around. Penny Dalby was prompted to write in her diary a flowery composition about locusts devouring fruit.

In Winnipeg we had our first chance to test out the system of working in fives. Unfortunately, several groups wandered farther away than they had intended, and got back 10 minutes after our train was due to leave. Fortunately, it hadn't. We were assured by our leaders that it wouldn't happen again.

Birthdays provided a source of activity, as Flo Chan had a party on July 2. The next day, Jennifer Costain and Lenore Blake were given a joint party.

Now, as we are about to leave Canada, we are all excited and anxious to see what the continent holds for us. Europe, here we come.

Yum-Yum Art in Demand

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Those "art" portraits of actress Jacqui Chan, who plays a yum-yum girl in "The World of Suzie Wong" have become collector's items since her ex-boy friend, Anthony Armstrong-Jones, married the sister of England's queen.

While Audrey Hepburn is starring in "Breakfast at Tiffany's" for Paramount, husband Mel Ferrer will star in "Counterpoint," an hour-long suspense series, in October—when they will stay in Hollywood for a while with the baby expected this month.

Maggie MacNamara, so good in "The Moon is Blue" and "Three Coins in the Fountain," is talking of starring on Broadway in the Tennessee Williams comedy originally talked of for Carroll Baker.

Sammy Davis is asking for Mai Britt to be his co-star in his movie with Gene Kelly and Louis Armstrong, set for London in December. Sammy's request has caused a slight contretemps... and this is funny: with nothing on the agenda for Mai at 20th-Fox they were planning to drop her when option time came around. Now Mai has had so much publicity with Davis, the studio might pick her up!

Gina Lollobrigida writes from Toronto: "We have a fine house in the country, on three floors, with a facade like a Greek temple, and a big garden for Milko to play in." In spite of which, Gina is building a house there more in keeping with her fortune.

Everett Sloane was one of the first of the good actors to make a handsome livelihood in television plays. Lately, Everett has added TV directing. And now he is successful as a writer for TV, having just sold "The Hamlet Capers" to TT Sunset Strip.

Monty in China

Crime Wiped Out

Ruthless, Successful Morality Drive

By LORD MONTGOMERY

16th of a Series

Whatever one may think of the Communist regime in China and much of what one hears is quite untrue—one must allow that the government of the People's Republic has embarked on a program of moral uplift which will stand comparison with any nation in the Christian world. Mao Tse-tung told me that if the new China was to progress, abuses must be stamped out, and a good start has been made.

I do not know when the new policy began, but today banditry has ceased and so have burglary and house-breaking; pickpockets have disappeared; there are no gangsters in the streets, and the opium saloons have gone out of business. Prostitutes are not allowed; immoral acts are a major crime with the heaviest penalties.

Mao Tse-tung has said that all these things are forbidden, and the party machine sees to it they do not take place.

All this I was told, and I took every opportunity to check on it by asking individuals at random: I have no reason to doubt the truth of what was told me on these issues; the answer was always the same—"Chairman Mao says..." It may well be that ruthless methods have been adopted in the carrying out of Mao's policy; with a population of 650,000,000 people, ruthless measures may well have been necessary if the policy was to show success within a reasonable time.

Compare this with what goes on in the Western world. British regiments are stationed in Hong Kong and in the New Territories on the Kowloon side, and I spent a day with them on my way to Peking. A major problem with the soldier is venereal disease; prostitutes are much in evidence. One mile away from the quarters of the British soldiers in the New Territories is China, with no prostitutes.

On my return to London I read the debate in the House of Lords on June 1, 1960, about "Magistrates' Powers and Control of Clubs." The debate was opened by Lord Stotham and his speech gave details of some of the things which go on in London. He said his object was to draw attention to the high standards he was trying to reach in China—adding that where the West goes moral standards deteriorate. I didn't reply to this; but I felt a bit sad because it was difficult to refute his statement.

Of course there are still plenty of bad things going on in China; and obviously the risk of moral contamination is not the only reason why China is shut to Western correspondents or to tourism. But the Chinese leaders have at least made a start in stamping out abuses. Their methods may appear to us ruthless, but all-in-all I reckon their methods are more likely to succeed than ours.

In my conversation with Mao Tse-tung I said it was a pity that China was such a "closed shop" to people from the West; this policy meant that misconceptions about the new China could not be corrected, indeed they merely became more distorted.

He said a major reason was the Western peoples brought with them a laxity in moral standards which might impede

Pay Boost Hinted To Armed Forces

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Pearkes held out hope Thursday for a pay increase for the armed forces.

He said consideration is being given to increasing pay and allowances in the armed forces.

Mr. Pearkes added all civilian defence employees likely will get a salary increase this year.

Mutineers Attack Nuns, Belgians Race for Refuge

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo Republic (Reuters) — Panic-stricken Belgian women and children fled from Leopoldville early today amid an army uprising in the capital.

A horde of Congolese troops seized arms in the city's Camp Leopold and chased out their European officers, triggering a wave of panic.

BOARD FERRIES

Women and children thronged through the streets and boarded ferry boats north across the Congo River to Brazzaville in neighboring former French Africa.

The exodus came as Belgian refugees poured into Leopoldville with talk of rape and looting by rampaging army mutineers in outlying areas of the seven-day-old republic.

The army rebellion was reported quelled by 3 a.m. local time, after two boatloads of women and children had crossed the river.

SHOCKED BY TALES

Leopoldville's white population was shocked by tales of outrages by mutinying troops elsewhere in the Congo.

The number of women sexually assaulted was impossible to determine but reports from refugees indicated widespread rapes the previous night when drunken troops roamed the Thysville, Madimba and surrounding areas.

ASSAULTED

Two white women were sexually assaulted by gangs of soldiers in nearby Madimba, refugees said.

The Thysville situation, where Camp Hardy troops revolted against Belgian officers Wednesday, was termed critical after the police rose against European officers. The police was considered the backbone of loyal government supporters.

Wives and children of officers living in Thysville asked Belgian authorities for help and later reportedly boarded a train for this city.

FOUR INTO CITY

Other segments of the 95,000 Belgian population poured into Leopoldville late Thursday and reported soldiers were searching homes, purportedly for weapons, in Thysville and Madimba and roughing up residents as they went.

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — A dust-covered Belgian administrator from the Madimba region arrived here Thursday from Thysville with a report of European women and nuns being raped at gunpoint by mutinous Congo soldiers.

ROUNDED UP

He said troops at Inkisi rounded up all the European residents and raped the wife of one of them "several times," then began a house-to-house search for weapons.

At Mbanza-Boma, he said, other troops broke into a convent where many European women had sought refuge. They raped the women and nuns at gunpoint, he said.

SMASHED INTO CHAPEL

"They smashed their way into the chapel where the nuns were assembled in prayer," he said. "They menaced them and roughed them up."

"They left finally, dragging two screaming girls along. Hours later, the girls were found kilometers away in the jungle where they had been abandoned stark naked."

Soldiers in Thysville, a Belgian-founded town some 100 miles southwest of the capital city of Leopoldville, were said to have broken into a cement factory in the neighboring town of Lumbako and forced white personnel to crawl on their hands and knees at gunpoint in front of African workers.

Kidnapper Asks $56,000 for Boy

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters) — A kidnapper Thursday snatched eight-year-old Graeme Thorne and demanded one-quarter of his father's $224,000 lottery winnings as ransom.

It was the first case of child kidnapping in Australia's history.

The grief-stricken mother, Mrs. Freda Thorne, sobbed: "We will even pay out the whole lottery win to get him back."

Graeme's salesman father, Basil Thorne, broke down during a television interview.

He cried: "If whoever has Graeme is a father with children of his own, all I can say is: for God's sake send him back to me in one piece."

Thorne had been pestered by cranks and crackpots, police said, since he won £100,000 in a lottery held last month in connection with a fund-raising campaign for a new opera house in Sydney.

The boy vanished on his way to school from his suburban home.

'Rock' Stops Ship

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — Three luxury liners were held in port Thursday night by a strike which started as a dispute over rock 'n' roll.

About 500 crew members were on strike in support of four union colleagues who were "disciplined" for playing "rock" music on the mooring deck of the 22,000-ton Cunard liner Carinthia as it sailed up the St. Lawrence River two weeks ago.

The liners held up were the Carinthia, the Reina Del Mar and the Apapa.

Mexicans Cheer Support for Cuba

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A spokesman for Mexico's ruling political party told cheering Mexican congressmen Thursday that Mexico will have to side with Cuba in the growing U.S.-Cuban crisis.

Emilio Sanchez Piedra said he was speaking for the Party of Revolutionary Institutions, which has an overwhelming majority in Congress.

Both senators and deputies were present at the congressional meeting called to explain the policies of the government of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Sanchez Piedra said the United States apparently has shut its doors to friendship and understanding despite desires of the Cuban public to live in liberty and economic independence.

He said the Mexican Congress, representing the Mexican people, offers its friendship to the Cuban people.

Mexico will stand solidly

with Castro's island republic, he declared.

His remarks touched off an ovation. Mexican newspaper reporters said it was the greatest they remember among congressmen.

Bullet-Proof Vests Used In Dragnet

MONTREAL (UPI) — Heavily armed special squad officers from city and provincial police forces prowled through the suspected haunts of known bank robbers last night in a series of information seeking raids.

The police officers, equipped with bullet proof vests, were making an all-out effort to curb the number of armed robberies in Montreal.

By TERRY HAMMOND

Proposal to build the controversial 700-mile Pacific Northern Railway into B.C.'s northern wilderness will almost certainly become the subject of a Public Utilities Commission hearing—whether the government wants it to or not.

This was apparent late yesterday when Prince Rupert Mayor Peter J. Lester told the Colonist his municipality is almost sure to become the "interested person" which PUC chairman Dr. H. F. Angus said on Wednesday could precipitate such a hearing.

'INTERESTED PERSON'

A source close to the government later confirmed that Prince Rupert would qualify as the "interested person" under Part 1 of the Public Utilities Act.

Prince Rupert's action would probably bring construction of the line to a standstill while the PUC determines:

1. Whether the railway has actually started construction.

2. Whether it is a public utility within the meaning of the Public Utilities Act.

3. Whether the PUC has jurisdiction.

4. What it should do if it has got jurisdiction.

Earlier yesterday, Railways Minister Lyle Wicks said he found it "quite clear" that the PUC feels the railway can go ahead with construction—but not operation—of its railway to the Yukon without PUC approval.

Dr. Angus refused to confirm or deny this interpretation of a PUC order which came down on Wednesday dismissing the application of the PNR for a certificate of public convenience and necessity.

When pressed, he would

Breath Machine Wins Drunk Case

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa police department won its first court case Thursday using its new alcohol-measuring "breathalyzer." Cyril G. Marshall, 68, was convicted of impaired driving and fined $200. Mr. Marshall showed only slight signs of impairment, police testified. But the breath-measuring device showed a reading of .15 per cent, the accepted figure for impairment.

Civil War in Italy Red Riots Threat

ROME (AP) — Police machineguns chattered and five persons died Thursday in the continuing rioting that threatens to plunge Italy into civil war.

Word of new violence and death in the Communist stronghold city of Reggio Emilia in northern Italy touched off fresh tumult and fist fights here.

In addition to the five fatalities, at least 21 persons were wounded in Reggio Emilia. The outbreaks there appeared to be the worst in two weeks of disturbances in various places that now have claimed seven lives. More than 500 demonstrators and 200 police have been injured.

Premier Fernando Tambroni blamed the disorders on the Communists. He charged in the Chamber of Deputies the Communists were "conducting a pre-planned action—both in the national and international fields—aimed at subverting order and democracy."

The leftists said their target was the Fascists, but Italian newspapers charged they were acting on orders from Moscow to bring down Italy's pro-Western government.

Wife Watched on Bank As Man Lost in River

Skindivers Search For Logger

ALBERNI—A 32-year-old logger disappeared without a sound while swimming in Somass River as his wife watched from a float Wednesday evening. Missing and believed drowned is Joseph O'Neill, Mrs. O'Neill, watching from a float at Riverside Auto Court, was not alarmed when she saw her husband disappear beneath the water about 9 p.m. She watched for some time, expecting him to reappear on the surface, then decided that he may have changed his course and reached the other side of the river unobserved.

BECAME ALARMED

It was 15 minutes later when she became alarmed and notified William Dobbin, operator of the auto court, who went out in a small boat to search for the missing man.

RCMP were called and local skindivers joined in the search until after midnight without finding a trace of O'Neill. RCMP went out in boats again at low tide around 4 a.m.

SWAM FROM FLOAT

According to police, O'Neill swam from Riverside float to the government float nearby, then struck out across the river. He was about half way across the stream and swimming strongly when he suddenly disappeared. The river is approximately 100 yards wide at the point and from 15 to 20 feet deep.

WORKED AS LOGGER

O'Neill was employed by San Juan Logging Ltd. in the China Creek watershed until about two months ago.

Ferry Service Main Topic At Ganges Cabinet Session

The provincial cabinet will meet at Ganges on Salt Spring Island next Thursday at 2 p.m. at Harbor House Hotel.

Ferry transportation to and from the various Gulf Islands is expected to be the subject of several briefs, including one from Capt. O. H. New of Coast Ferries Ltd., who is understood has a plan to take over all Gulf Islands transportation. He now operates a ferry service to the mainland, which takes in some of the Gulf Islands.

ADDRESS MEETING

Premier Bennett and Recreation Minister Earle Westwood will address a public meeting on Harbor House Hotel grounds, following a buffet supper there. There has been some speculation that the premier will make an important announcement.

The cabinet will leave Swartz Bay for Fulford on the Gulf Islands ferry at 1:05 p.m. Thursday and will return to Victoria on a special ferry at 9:30 p.m.

CATER TO 250

Plans have been made to cater for 250 persons at the buffet supper, which will be open to the public who obtain tickets.

50,000 Gallons at Ladysmith

Oysters Plump for Pan, Men Prepare for Harvest

LADYSMITH—It takes quite a few hot days to warm up the water for oyster spawning, said Peter Lemberis, manager and co-owner of Thetis Island Oyster Co. here, when asked what's doing in Ladysmith's oyster business.

Most local oystermen are doing routine chores just now—transplanting the young to seeding grounds for growing, moving the more mature to the fattening grounds for the winter trade.

The past winter has been good—nice and cool. The oysters are plumping up nicely, says Edward Timothy, manager of Timothy Oyster Co., and vice-president of the B.C. Oyster Growers Association. He estimates that Ladysmith growers will harvest about 50,000 gallons of shucked oysters this year.

Despite modern advances in other fields, the oysterman has no machinery to assist him with the shucking of oysters. The work must still be done by hand using a special knife, but the skilled oysterman can do the job with amazing ease and speed.

Viewing the vast piles of shells outside the local oyster houses, Mr. Timothy estimates that 50 gallons of shucked oysters yields a one-ton pile of shells. Fortunately, before the piles can grow too large, they are taken away by scow to a pulverizing plant to produce calcium for use by farmers and poultrymen.

The oyster culturist goes steadily about his business of raising the succulent mollusks for the consumer market without fanfare in regard to the amount of work involved in bringing the tempting sea food to market in those attractive cartons, ready at a moment's notice for preparing nutritious and satisfying meals.

It's surprising, said Mr. Timothy, how few persons who actually live near the sea have seen an oyster growing. Interest of visitors is wonderful to see.

New Burners New Fuels Cut Nuisance

By R. O. MARRION

Victoria industry can't be accused of failing to try to cut down smoke and cinders, despite continuing complaints.

Co-operation of plant operators has resulted in marked progress in alleviating the nuisance, particularly the cinder problem, smoke inspector Thomas Walker said yesterday.

IMPROVEMENTS CITED

Mr. Walker cited these improvements:

The three major commercial laundries, all burning wood waste, have been equipped with "magic eye" smoke indicators which ring alarm bells when smoke becomes too dense, and New Method has installed an inclined grate which results in cleaner combustion. (And, Mr. Walker said, the mills will eventually produce less burnable waste, and wood-burners will have to switch to cleaner fuel.)

SPREADER TYPE

The Empress Hotel laundry "is making a wonderful improvement." Previously using a spreader-type coal stoker which sent a large amount of fine ash up the chimney, the laundry is now installing oil equipment.

The Moore-Whittington mill, formerly a major contributor to the cinder problem, last year put in a waste burner which, Mr. Walker said, is "the lesser of two evils."

LOW VELOCITY

It produces smoke, he said, but "instead of spreading cinders all over the country" it has a low velocity and slow fire and emits no cinders.

The Smith Cedar Products mill at the west end of Point Ellice bridge also built a waste burner with similar results.

CINDERS SETTLED

The McCarter Shingle Co. mill at Rock-Bay has installed a water spray to settle the cinders before they go up the smokestack, and is spending $175 a month on water for this purpose.

At the B.C. Forest Products sawmill, $22,000 has been spent on a cinder skimmer to remove cinders by centrifugal force, and another $22,000 on turbine improvements to cut down the load on the boilers.

COSTS $25,000

And, an important step BCFP has installed chipping equipment costing $25,000 in conjunction with its edge planers which, instead of producing shavings, produces pulp chips and saves eight truckloads of waste wood a day from being turned out and burned.

100 SWITCH

Besides these improvements, Mr. Walker said, more than 100 buildings in Victoria have switched in the last few years from coal to oil as fuel.

Bid to Save Infant Fails

A five-week-old baby found unconscious in her home yesterday was pronounced dead by a family physician after city firemen tried in vain for 40 minutes to revive her.

Body of Jodi Alwyn Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Clark, 2724 Forbes, was transferred to Royal Jubilee Hospital for a post-mortem to determine cause of death.

City firemen, called to the residence about 5 p.m., applied artificial respiration, including the mouth-to-mouth method, for 40 minutes.

Board Bylaw To Stress Junior Highs

By IAN STREET

Greater Victoria school board officials are meeting daily to draft a new school building bylaw that will be put to a vote this December.

Following the windup of the school term, July was set aside for a "concerted effort" to formulate plans for new classrooms and facilities, said school superintendent John Gough.

Trustees, faced with responsibility of fully informing the public of the need for more classrooms to keep pace with a growing school population, seldom fail to mention the proposed bylaw in their public appearances.

SIFT INFORMATION

Until a vast amount of information has been gathered and sifted by officials, however, no start can be made on actual planning.

In broad terms, it has already become apparent that emphasis will be placed in the forthcoming building program on accommodation mainly at the junior high school level. But the location of additions remains to be picked.

LATEST SURVEY

Latest survey for the board was made this spring by picked students from each of the district's elementary schools. They gathered information on the number of pre-school children living in Greater Victoria.

Final results of this survey have still to be announced. But a board spokesman said officials are debating just how much confidence to put in the results obtained.

FEWER STARTING

The survey showed that a much smaller number of children will enter elementary schools in the next few years than was indicated by earlier long-range predictions.

Mr. Gough said the sharp drop is out of line with continuing growth at the primary level and added he felt results of the latest survey are "too conservative, out of our experience."

Meanwhile, principals of all Greater Victoria schools have been asked to submit statements of their needs for the immediate future.

DAILY MEETINGS

Daily meetings of top officials continue, sifting and assessing the information they receive from all parts of the school system, before entering the final planning stage.

Trustees said they hoped to have a statement of the classroom needs and an estimate of the total cost by the end of August or early September.

"It's a shame these children can't go into the water without being cut up," said a nurse at the hospital where the girl was treated. "There's been so much of this lately. She had just run into the water when it happened."

Saanich police reiterated that they will take firm steps against anyone caught breaking bottles at beaches where persons might fall victim to the jagged pieces of glass.

DUNCAN—City council has asked water users to cut sprinkling to a minimum and to turn sprinklers off when they hear a fire siren.

There is adequate water for normal use, but the heavy draw for sprinkling purposes reduces the water pressure required for fire fighting, said city clerk G. M. Berry.

Failure to comply with this request could lead to a fine.

NANAIMO (CP)—The current heat wave has placed a strain on the city's water system, officials said here Thursday. Water pressures dropped in several areas, due mainly to inordinate use of sprinklers.

Water consumption tripled Wednesday, hitting a peak of 9,000,000 gallons, compared with an average summer daily rate of 3,000,000.

Officials said there was no water shortage, however, with water still flowing over the top of the South Forks Dam. A line to the reservoir has a capacity of 15,000,000 gallons daily.

DUNCAN—Teachers have been appointed for the summer school that starts for 134 students here Monday.

They are: Garth Bryans and George Elliott, English; Conrad Schamberger, French; George Bishop, commerce; Harry Brackenbury, math; Al Carlson and Florence Hepburn, science; John Morgan, social studies.

Mr. Trench was rector's warden and choirmaster for nearly 24 years. Mrs. Trench was president of the women's auxiliary and president of the altar guild.

A farewell gift will be made at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Stone, Gibbins Road. The couple is moving to Victoria.

DUNCAN—The Kiwanis Village Society has been notified the provincial government will make a grant of one-third of the cost of an elderly citizens' housing project here.

Approval has yet to be received from the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for a loan to be paid back over a long period of time.

The contract for construction of eight units has been let, pending federal and provincial government approval.

It is hoped work will start sometime this summer.

There were 7,579,000 board feet taken out during June for United Kingdom ports. Total for the month was 17,705,000 feet.

Exports from here and Crofton sailed in 29 ships, about average each month this year.

Exports were: United Kingdom, 7,579,000; Puerto Rico, 3,047,000; United States, 2,882,000; South Africa, 1,708,000; and Belgium, 775,000.

DUNCAN—A department of education policy was called "short-sighted" and "inviting accidents" at a Cowichan school board meeting last night.

The department ordered the board to reduce a large parking lot to 10 car spaces in plans for Somenos Junior High School.

Trustee Mrs. Elizabeth Tarlton said it would have to be completed with so that construction of the school, which will cut out crowding in the district, isn't held up.

A second letter from the department ruled that the contract for construction of the school could not hold a $25-a-day penalty clause to make sure the school is finished on schedule.

Trustee Mrs. Tarlton said it then would leave the completion date open to the builder.

MOTHERS, NUNS ATTACKED IN CONGO ARMY ATROCITIES

White Families Flee As Panic Strikes

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo Republic (Reuters) — Panic-stricken Belgian women and children fled from Leopoldville early today amid an army uprising in the capital.

A horde of Congolese troops seized arms in the city's Camp Leopold and chased out their European officers, triggering a wave of panic. Women and children thronged through the streets and boarded ferry boats north across the Congo River to Brazzaville in neighboring former French Africa.

NEW REPUBLIC

The exodus came as Belgian refugees poured into Leopoldville with talk of rape and looting by rampaging army mutineers in outlying areas of the seven-day-old republic.

Crowds of Belgians left their homes and sought refuge at the Belgian Embassy while bands of armed rebel troops stopped some of their cars at gunpoint.

The army rebellion was reported quelled by 3 a.m. local time, after two boatloads of women and children had crossed the river.

SHOCKED BY TALES

Leopoldville's white population was shocked by tales of outrages by mutinying troops elsewhere in the Congo.

The number of women sexually assaulted was impossible to determine but reports from refugees indicated widespread rapes the previous night when drunken troops roamed the Thysville, Madimba and surrounding areas.

ASSAULTED

Two white women were sexually assaulted by gangs of soldiers in nearby Madimba, refugees said.

The Thysville situation, where Camp Hardy troops revolted against Belgian officers Wednesday, was termed critical after the police rose against European officers. The police was considered the backbone of loyal government supporters.

Wives and children of officers living in Thysville asked Belgian authorities for help and later reportedly boarded a train for this city.

POUR INTO CITY

Other segments of the 95,000 Belgian population poured into Leopoldville late Thursday and reported soldiers were searching homes, purportedly for weapons, in Thysville and Madimba, and roughing up residents as they went.

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — A dust-covered Belgian administrator from the Madimba region arrived here Thursday from Thysville with a report of European women and nuns being raped at gunpoint by mutinous Congo soldiers.

ROUNDED UP

He said troops at Inkisi rounded up all the European residents and raped the wife of one of them "several times," then began a house-to-house search for weapons.

At Mbanza-Boma, he said, other troops broke into a convent where many European women had sought refuge. They raped the women and nuns at gunpoint, he said.

SMASHED INTO CHAPEL

"They left finally, dragging two screaming girls along. Hours later, the girls were found kilometers away in the jungle where they had been abandoned stark naked."

Soldiers in Thysville, a Belgian-founded town some 100 miles southwest of the capital city of Leopoldville, were said to have broken into a cement factory in the neighboring town of Lambako and forced white personnel to crawl on their hands and knees at gunpoint in front of African workers.

Kidnapper Asks $56,000 for Boy

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters) — A kidnapper Thursday snatched eight-year-old Graeme Thorne and demanded one-quarter of his father's $224,000 lottery winnings as ransom.

It was the first case of child kidnapping in Australia's history.

Graeme's salesman father, Basil Thorne, broke down during a television interview.

He cried: "If whoever has Graeme is a father with children of his own, all I can say is: for God's sake send him back to me in one piece." Thorne had been pestered by cranks and crackpots, police said, since he won £100,000 in a lottery held last month in connection with a fund-raising campaign for a new opera house in Sydney.

The boy vanished on his way to school from his suburban home.

A friend reported to Mrs. Thorne after Graeme failed to turn up and police were informed. But kidnapping was not suspected until a man telephoned to the boy's home and demanded $56,000 for Graeme's release.

Pay Boost Hinted To Armed Forces

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Peckes held out hope Thursday for a pay increase for the armed forces.

He said consideration is being given to increasing pay and allowances in the armed forces. Mr. Peckes added all civilian defence employees likely will get a salary increase this year.

Mexicans Cheer Support for Cuba

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A spokesman for Mexico's ruling political party told cheering Mexican congressmen Thursday that Mexico will have to side with Cuba in the growing U.S.-Cuban crisis.

Emilio Sanchez Piedra said he was speaking for the Party of Revolutionary Institutions, which has an overwhelming majority in Congress.

Both senators and deputies were present at the congressional meeting called to explain the policies of the government of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Sanchez Piedra said the United States apparently has shut its doors to friendship and understanding despite desires of the Cuban public to live in liberty and economic independence.

He said the Mexican Congress, representing the Mexican people, offers its friendship to the Cuban people.

Mexico will stand solidly

with Castro's island republic, he declared.

His remarks touched off an ovation. Mexican newspaper reporters said it was the greatest they remember among congressmen.

Bullet-Proof Vests Used In Dragnet

MONTREAL (UPI) — Heavily armed special squad officers from city and provincial police forces prowled through the suspected haunts of known bank robbers last night in a series of information seeking raids.

The police officers, equipped with bullet-proof vests, were making an all-out effort to curb the number of armed robberies in Montreal.

By TERRY HAMMOND

Proposal to build the controversial 700-mile Pacific Northern Railway into B.C.'s northern wilderness will almost certainly become the subject of a Public Utilities Commission hearing—whether the government wants it to or not.

This was apparent last night when Prince Rupert Mayor Peter J. Lester told the Colonist his municipality is almost sure to become the "interested person" which PUC chairman Dr. H. F. Angus said on Wednesday could precipitate such a hearing.

INTERESTED PERSON

A source close to the government later confirmed that Prince Rupert would qualify as the "interested person" under Part 1 of the Public Utilities Act.

Prince Rupert's action would probably bring construction of the line to a standstill while the PUC determines:

1. Whether the railway has actually started construction.
2. Whether it is a public utility within the meaning of the Public Utilities Act.
3. Whether the PUC has jurisdiction.
4. What it should do if it has got jurisdiction.

NOT SUBJECT

The PNR maintains that it is not subject to the provisions of the Public Utilities Act at the present time.

Earlier yesterday, Railways Minister Lyle Wicks said he found it "quite clear" that the PUC feels the railway can go ahead with construction—but not operation—of its railway to the Yukon without PUC approval.

Dr. Angus refused to confirm or deny this interpretation of a PUC order which came down on Wednesday dismissing the application of the PNR for a certificate of public convenience and necessity. When pressed, he would

Breath Machine Wins Drunk Case

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa police department won its first court case Thursday using its new alcohol-measuring "breathalyzer." Cyril G. Marshall, 68, was convicted of impaired driving and fined $200. Mr. Marshall showed only slight signs of impairment, police testified. But the breath-measuring device showed a reading of .15 per cent, the accepted figure for impairment.

Civil War in Italy Red Riot Threat

ROME (AP) — Police machineguns chattered and five persons died Thursday in the continuing rioting that threatens to plunge Italy into civil war.

Word of new violence and death in the Communist stronghold city of Reggio Emilia in northern Italy touched off fresh tumult and fist fights here.

In addition to the five fatalities, at least 21 persons were wounded in Reggio Emilia. The outbreaks there appeared to be the worst in two weeks of disturbances in various places that now have claimed seven lives. More than 500 demonstrators and 200 police have been injured.

Premier Fernando Tambroni blamed the disorders on the Communists. He charged in the Chamber of Deputies the Communists were "conducting a pre-planned action—both in the national and international fields—aimed at subverting order and democracy."

The leftists said their target was the Fascists, but Italian newspapers charged they were acting on orders from Moscow to bring down Italy's pro-Western government.
